

Snyder Denies News Hampered By Censorship

Drop Treason Case Against Ezra Pound

Washington — The treason indictment against Ezra Pound, 72, was dismissed today, opening the way for his early release from a mental institution.

The bearded Pound has been confined to St. Elizabeth's hospital since 1946.

The treason charge was based on pro-axis, anti-American broadcasts made by Pound from Italy during World War II.

The indictment was dismissed by Chief Judge Bolitha J. Laws in U. S. District court when the government, in effect, joined in a motion asking this action.

May Return to Italy
Pound sat among spectators during the brief court proceeding. Mrs. Pound, a gray-haired woman who has been a frequent visitor at the hospital in the years her husband has been confined there, sat at the counsel table.

Pound wore a threadbare blue striped coat, unmatching blue slacks and a light sport shirt open at the throat with the tails sticking out from his trousers.

Pound and his wife declined to talk with reporters. But Thurmond Arnold, an attorney who spoke for Pound, said Mrs. Pound plans to take her husband to Italy. Pound had lived in Italy 21 years before he was seized by American troops in 1945.

Fears Censorship
Moss, chairman of a house subcommittee studying government information practices, told the ASNE's annual meeting yesterday that under Eisenhower's proposed Pentagon reorganization "abuse of the security system would become worse."

He said new instructions apparently made Snyder "the undisputed censor of what the public shall know about the vast military establishment."

Snyder told the editors today that many persons, including some members of congress, feel the defense department talks too much instead of too little. Snyder said U. S. military leaders are discharging their duties with "a full regard for the safety of the nation."

He also disputed a claim by Moss that news arrangements at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile and satellite launching area represent a throwback to wartime voluntary censorship.

Praises Agreement
An agreement by which reporters have access to the base on condition that they await military approval before reporting what they see. Snyder said, is a good example of "cooperation in good faith between government and the information media."

He added: "The result is a better informed press and public and fewer security problems than in the days when the reporters' missile news sources in the Canaveral area were rumor, gossip and educated guessing, supplemented by birdwatching from a remote beach."

In another speech, Gen. Maxwell Taylor, army chief of staff, endorsed in principle the sweeping Pentagon unification proposals which Eisenhower defended in a speech to the editors yesterday.

Taylor said he concurs in Eisenhower's statement that warfare waged by separate army, navy and air force commands is gone forever. The shattered by a shotgun blast modern need, he said, is an fired through a window of his home here the night of April 20, 1948, by an unknown assailant.

The union contended there was probable cause for issuance of the warrant. Reuther's right arm was shattered by a shotgun blast home here the night of April 20, 1948, by an unknown assailant.

Sixth District GOP Favors Sales Tax, Right-to-Work Law

Only a Few Dissenting Votes
Cast Against Each Resolution

BY ALLAN EKVAL
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fond du Lac — Sixth district Republicans went on record in favor of a state sales tax and a right-to-work bill at their annual caucus here Thursday night. There were only a few dissenting votes and no debate from the floor.

The same right-to-work resolution resulted in long arguments and several votes, along with a referendum suggestion, at the Winnebago county GOP meeting at Oshkosh last week. Among the speakers was Gov. Vernon Thomson, who indicated he remained opposed to the sales tax. He said the state administration had met its responsibilities and given tax relief to localities under present tax policies, and he pledged continuation of the policies.

Cane Opposed
Assemblyman J. Cane of Menasha was among those voting against the right-to-work bill. The negative votes were scattered and disorganized. Few of the opponents of the resolution, at the Winnebago county caucus attended the district caucus.

The right-to-work bill resolution contended that "individual rights should never be destroyed by the privileges of private organizations and the system of compulsory unionism leads to abuses of economic and political power in the hands of union leaders."

It also charges that "individual workers will derive more benefits from unions which are voluntary organizations responsive to the will of their members." The worker able to quit the union without losing his job has an effective check on union officials, it contended.

The only spoken opposition on the sales tax recommendation came from Ray Toner, an Oshkosh plumbing contractor. He told the delegates he didn't see how adding a new tax could bring any tax relief. Thomson

Still Opposed To Tax Slash

Treasury Secretary
Sees Constant Growth
Of Federal Deficits

Washington — Secretary of the Treasury Anderson today forecast a federal deficit this year of well over $3 billion and an even higher deficit for next year.

Anderson said the red ink figure for the fiscal year which begins July 1 would approach $4 billion dollars even if federal revenues remain at a high level — a situation which he said is unlikely.

He said government officials are giving daily consideration to the wisdom of a tax cut but reaffirmed his opposition to any abrupt cut as "a single dramatic action" that would automatically assure a business recovery.

Anderson spoke out simultaneously with the issuance of a White House report which said the nation's production rate dropped in the first quarter of this year to an annual rate of $424 billion. That was $16 billion below the peak of six months ago.

The drop in what economists call the gross national product was put at $8,600,000,000 between the last three months of 1957 and the first three months of this year.

The peak gross national product — the value of all goods and services produced in the country — was $440 billion in the third quarter of last year. In the final 1957 quarter it dropped to about $432,600,000,000 and in the first three months of this year to $424 billion.

In all case, the estimates allow for seasonal factors.

Farouk's Treasures Up at Public Auction

Cairo — A 3-day public auction of jewels and art objects owned by former King Farouk and his family opened today in the crowded pillared hall of Abdin palace.

Bidding was high among local and foreign dealers. The highest price during the morning was $60,000 for a solid gold tea set.

Auction officials estimate the items should bring about 250,000 Egyptian pounds ($717,500). At least five similar auctions have already been held.

Scattered Showers Likely for Tonight

Fox Cities — Considerable cloudiness with scattered showers tonight ending Saturday forenoon followed by partial clearing Saturday afternoon. Windy tonight and Saturday. Low tonight 45-50. High Saturday 65-70.

Appleton temperatures for the 24-hour period ending at 9 o'clock this morning: High 83; low 46. Temperature at 11 o'clock this morning, 66, with the wind at 10 miles an hour from the northeast. Weather map on Page 12.

Sun sets tonight at 6:41, rises Saturday morning at 5:04; New moon tonight at 8:23.

Forest Fire Threat Grows All Parts of State Menaced as Result Of Long Dry Spell

Madison — John A. Beale, chief forester of the conservation department, said today that the prolonged dry spell had brought about serious forest fire threats in all parts of Wisconsin.

Beale said there had been 695 fires that burned 10,000 acres this spring, compared with 242 fires that burned 4,500 acres last year by this time.

"Fortunately," Beale said, "most of the fires have been on marsh land and pastures and the damage has not been too extensive."

"However, if the drought continues some serious fires could result."

Beale added that there were 52 fires reported Thursday and 38 the day before in widely scattered areas of the state.

He added that the worst conditions existed in Douglas and Bayfield counties which have had little or no rain for more than three weeks.

The forester said of the 52 fires Thursday 25 were started from sparks from railroad engines. He said carbon frequently accumulated when switch engines stood idle and then started up.

Washington — The house ways and means committee today approved a billion dollar unemployment relief program which one Republican denounced as exceeding "the wildest dreams of the new deal."

Rep. Byrnes (R-Wis.), a member, said the committee proposal "embarks this country on an absolute dole."

"The federal treasury is left wide open, and nobody has any idea what it will actually cost," Byrnes said. "Certainly it will exceed a billion and more like two billion. It goes beyond the wildest dreams of the New Deal and the Fair Deal."

The plan, to remain in effect until June 30, 1959, would be financed wholly by the federal treasury. It would apply both to workers now covered by existing state unemployment programs and to many not now eligible, but proposed rules concerning the latter have not been decided.

The Democratic approved program represented a compromise of proposals put forth by President Eisenhower and those sponsored by Chairman Mills (D-Ark.) of the ways and means committee.

In its tentative form, the program calls for:

1. Sixteen weeks of added benefits for insured workers' families. He said carbon frequently accumulated when switch engines stood idle and then started up.
2. The same number of weeks of benefits for non-covered workers who are not eligible for state benefits.

3. Payments to be financed by the federal government in conformity with the existing level of benefits now provided.

Pleads Innocent To Murder Charge

Fond du Lac — A Fond du Lac man, convicted last week of slaying his former fiancée changed his mind today about pleading guilty to another murder charge and went to prison to think it over.

Clayton H. Lambert, 30, was sentenced April 9 to a life term for first degree murder in the fatal shooting of Miss Marie Riel, 26, route 2, Brandon, last January, shortly after she broke off her engagement to him.

Lambert also indicated he wanted to plead guilty to a similar charge in the killing of Miss Riel's escort, Wallace F. Madison, 36, route 1, Bonduel. At the request of Lambert's attorney, Raymond Colwin, arrangements were made to return Lambert here today for a court appearance.

Colwin said Lambert told him a social worker at the prison had advised him to plead innocent to the second murder charge.

Mike Todd's Estate To Be Split Between His Son and Widow

New York — Showman Mike Todd's estate today was estimated unofficially at between three and five million dollars. He left half in trust for his widow, Elizabeth Taylor, and bequeathed the other half outright to his son, Michael Todd, Jr.

Todd's will was filed for probate in the New York county surrogate's court. Todd, 48, perished in a New Mexico plane crash March 21.

The will was dated April 16, 1957, and named his son as executor.

The son and Miss Taylor were named trustees of the trust set up for the actress. She will receive the income from it during her lifetime.

The junior Todd is the showman's son by a previous marriage. For probate purposes, a daughter will be appointed for a daughter, Elizabeth Frances Todd, born to the producer and Miss Taylor.

Sees Threat In Polar Activities

United Nations, N. Y. — The Soviet Union today called for an urgent meeting of the U. N. Security council to halt alleged provocative flights of U. S. military planes.

The request was delivered by Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev a few hours after Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko accused the United States of sending planes armed with nuclear bombs over the North pole toward the U.S.S.R.

The Soviet delegate requested that the council meet tomorrow.

Moscow — Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today accused the United States of sending planes armed with atomic and hydrogen bombs across the polar region toward the Soviet Union. He announced a protest against these "provocative flights" was being sent to the U. N. Security council.

Gromyko told a news conference such flights were "unheard of in times of peace" and the Kremlin demands their immediate cessation. He said they carry the danger of worldwide atomic war.

If the United States is trying to intimidate the Soviet Union with these flights, he said, it is wasting its time.

"The Soviet Union has sufficiently strong nerves and its armed forces can if necessary deliver a crushing retaliatory blow to any aggressor," he added.

Communists Angry
The foreign minister said he would like to believe the U. S. Air Force took action without the sanction of the U. S. government or President Eisenhower personally. But there has been no statement to the contrary, he added.

Gromyko expressed the "profound indignation" of the Soviet government that such flights were being launched at a time when the Big Four powers were finally entering diplomatic talks aimed at convening a summit conference.

He said he had not brought up the Kremlin protest at meetings of the three western ambassadors summoned to the foreign ministry in the past 24 hours to discuss a summit conference.

Charge Not True, Hagerty Asserts

Washington — The White House today put a "not true" brand on a Soviet charge the United States sent planes armed with atomic and H-bombs across the Polar area toward Russia.

"Mr. Gromyko's statements are not true," White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said in reply to newsmen's inquiries.

Hagerty added that a more complete statement would be made by the state department later in the day.

President Eisenhower, informed of the Gromyko charge, discussed the matter with Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles and Undersecretary of State Christian Herter.

Herter and Quarles stayed on at the White House for the discussion after attending a cabinet meeting which dealt with other matters.

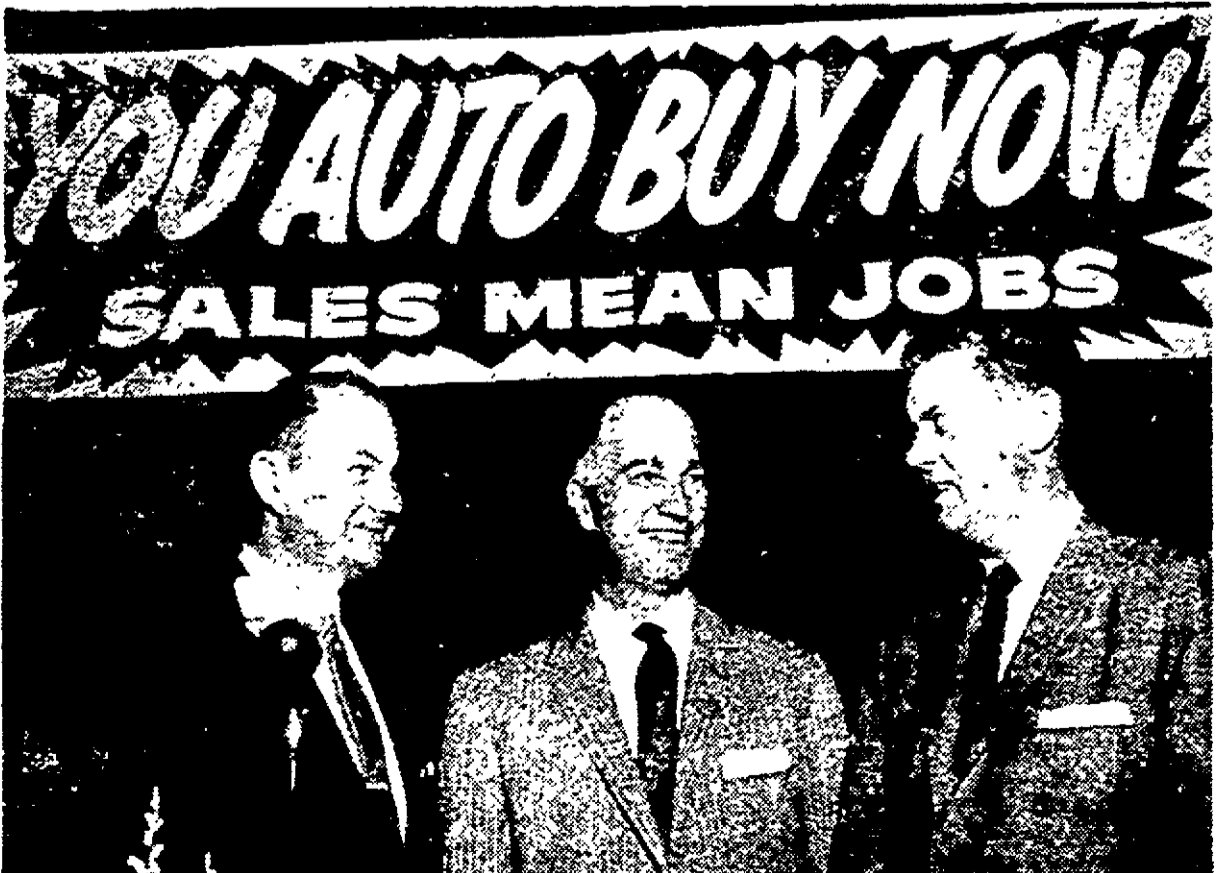

Dejean said earlier the talks with Gromyko were "preliminary in nature."

But Gromyko told his news conference the Soviet Union could not accept the position of the western powers for diplomatic talks as presented in a 3-power note Wednesday.

Position Unchanged
This indicated the Kremlin is standing pat on its position that talks on a diplomatic level be limited to setting the time and place and composition of a foreign ministers meeting preliminary to a summit meeting. The up for the actress. She will receive the income from it during her lifetime.

Gromyko said the Soviet government felt talks on a diplomatic level could drag on for months or even years and the Soviet government is interested in a quick settlement.

Sales Keep America First, Dealers Told

Fox Cities Auto Men Kick-Off
10-Day Event to Boost Buying

"You Auto Buy Now" week in the Fox Cities area received its kick-off Thursday night with a warning that America's sales-clearing Saturday afternoon, men must sell their products in order to keep the country strong and dominant over Russia.

Over 200 auto dealers, salesmen, bankers, loan company executives and advertising men met at the Appleton Elks club to hear William French, general sales manager of consumer products for Kimberly-Clark corporation, say salesmanship is necessary for continued economic growth.

"I believe we can talk ourselves into a depression; and conversely we can sell our people on an ever higher standard of living," said French.

"Our stupendous American accomplishment was made possible by our competitive system of free opportunity. Today we have the largest skilled work force in the world. We have the know-how. We can produce dizzying quantities of anything you want," he continued. "Our challenge today is to sell it. And so, 'You Auto Buy Now' is a watchword for our survival and growth."

French credited salesmanship of the American variety.

Predict Victory for Reorganization Plan

Sen. Dirksen Says Eisenhower's Program for Shaking Up Defense Department Will Win Approval

Washington — Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said today he foresees ultimate victory for a reorganization of the defense department along the lines urged by President Eisenhower.

Dirksen, the assistant GOP senate leader, said he is "quite sympathetic to the whole thing," especially in the light of explanations he and other leaders have received at White House briefings since the plan first was announced.

Eisenhower opened his fight for the program yesterday with a nationally televised address before a meeting here of newspaper editors. He received a prompt pledge of vigorous support from 24 of the senate's 47 Republican members.

Limited Endorsement
The plan also won limited endorsement from the Army Association, the membership of which includes active, retired and reserve army officers. The Air Force association previously had endorsed the plan, but the Navy league, a civilian group, has criticized it.

Dirksen was not listed as among those joining in the senatorial statement, nor were the other top Republican leaders in the senate—Knowland of California, Bridges of New Hampshire and Saltonstall of Massachusetts.

However, Dirksen told a reporter he had not been asked to sign it. The other three were not reached for comment, but Bridges has criticized some of the plan's provisions.

The statement of the 24 senators applauded "the fighting action of President Eisenhower in presenting a plan designed to provide this nation with an effective, competent defense structure."

It described Eisenhower as, "by all odds, the best qualified man in America to reorganize the department of defense" and urged that the legislation be given the highest priority.

Public Hearings
The statement was issued through the office of Sen. Allott (R-Colo.).

Senate hearings on Eisenhower's proposal have not yet been scheduled, but the house armed services committee will start public hearings Tuesday with Secretary of Defense McElroy as the first witness.

Rep. Vinson (D-Ga.), chairman of the house committee, has called the president's plan a move toward setting up a "Prussian-type supreme high command."

Eisenhower, without calling any names, said in his speech to the editors that such criticism was nonsense. He also took sharp issue with contentions that his plan would make a czar of the defense secretary.

U. S. Response To Test Halt 'Inadequate'

Church Leader Levels Charge at Final Day Of Council Meeting

Buck Hill Falls, Pa. — The United States response to Russia's announcement that it is halting nuclear tests has been inadequate, a religious leader said today.

Dr. O. Frederick Nolde, director of the commission of the churches on international affairs, suggested:

1. That the United States should limit, halt or forego the nuclear tests in the Pacific this spring if continuing studies produce a revised estimate of their importance, or if the Soviet Union shows a readiness to proceed with a sound disarmament program.

2. A cut-off date for testing through an agreement among the nuclear powers with provisions for inspection under the United Nations.

"This endless chain must be broken if tests are to cease," Dr. Nolde said in a speech prepared for the concluding session of the United States conference of the World Council of Churches.

3. Establishment of a nuclear test authority to supervise and determine the tests needed for peaceful uses of atomic energy.

Dr. Nolde told the 105 delegates who attended the 3-day conference that Russia's motives in announcing a halt of nuclear tests might be insincere.

"Nevertheless," he said, "I cannot escape the conviction that the United States and allied governments have made an inadequate response to Russia's announcement about the cessation of nuclear testing."

36-Day-Old Prince Gets Highest Moroccan Honor

Monte Carlo, Monaco — Young Prince Albert of Monaco, now 36 days old, received his first decoration today. It was the grand cross of the order of Grimaldis, the highest Moroccan honor, and it was presented by his father, Prince Rainier III.

Prince Albert will make his first public appearance tomorrow, to be presented to the citizens of Monaco—there are only about 2,000 of them—in the palace courtyard. On Sunday he will be baptized in the Monte Carlo cathedral.

Claims Quality Of Education in U. S. Too Low

Editors Told Talent Frittered Away by 'Trivial Programs'

Washington — An author-Educator told the nation's editors today that the quality of education provided in American classrooms is disgracefully low.

Arthur Bestor, University of Illinois historian and former head of the council for basic education, told the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) that "professional educationalists" have frittered away the country's resources of youthful talent on what he called "trivial and short-sighted programs."

Bestor's speech was prepared for a panel session at the editors' annual meeting. It was expected to draw a vigorous reply from another panelist, Dr. William G. Carr, Executive Secretary of the National Education Association (NEA).

Bestor noted that 50,000 American students are studying German, as compared with five million Russian pupils. American schools offer physics for one year, he said, while Soviet schools require physics for five years.

Its Expectations
"What we should imitate from Russia is not its system but its expectations," Bestor added.

"For a generation professional educationalists here have been selling the intellectual abilities of the American people short—asserting that half of them are too stupid to learn a foreign language, though gutter urchins throughout the world do so, and that two-thirds of them are too stupid to profit from physics or intermediate algebra."

"Contempt for the innate ability of the common man has never been so virulent as it is among those American professional educationalists who like most to talk about democracy."

"The greatest need of American education today is new leadership—leadership by men and women who believe in the importance of intellectual discipline for every young person."

Finish Cabinet Defeated After 5 Ruling Months

Helsinki, Finland — Prime Minister Rainer Von Fieandt's cabinet of non-political experts fell today after five months in office.

Agrarians, socialists and communists joined to defeat the government by a vote of 143-50. The issue was an increase in the price of bread.

The cabinet's fall probably meant that Finland, second only to France in post-war II cabinet crises, was headed for another long period of political uncertainty.

Rain Fails to Dampen Rush To Brussels World's Fair

Brussels, Belgium — Steady rain kept down attendance at the 1958 World's Fair today, but thousands paid their money to see the billion dollar show.

Beneath soggy, dripping flags the biggest crowds flocked to four places during the morning and afternoon:

The 334-foot-high-atomium—a fantastic looking structure that represents an iron crystal magnified 150 billion times. Through its connecting metal tubes runs an elevator and escalators.

The Vatican's exhibit, and the American and Russian pavilions.

The Americans continued to draw more people than the Russians. Thirty minutes after the morning's opening an unofficial check showed an average of 30 persons entering the Soviet exhibit every minute against 80 at the U. S. show.

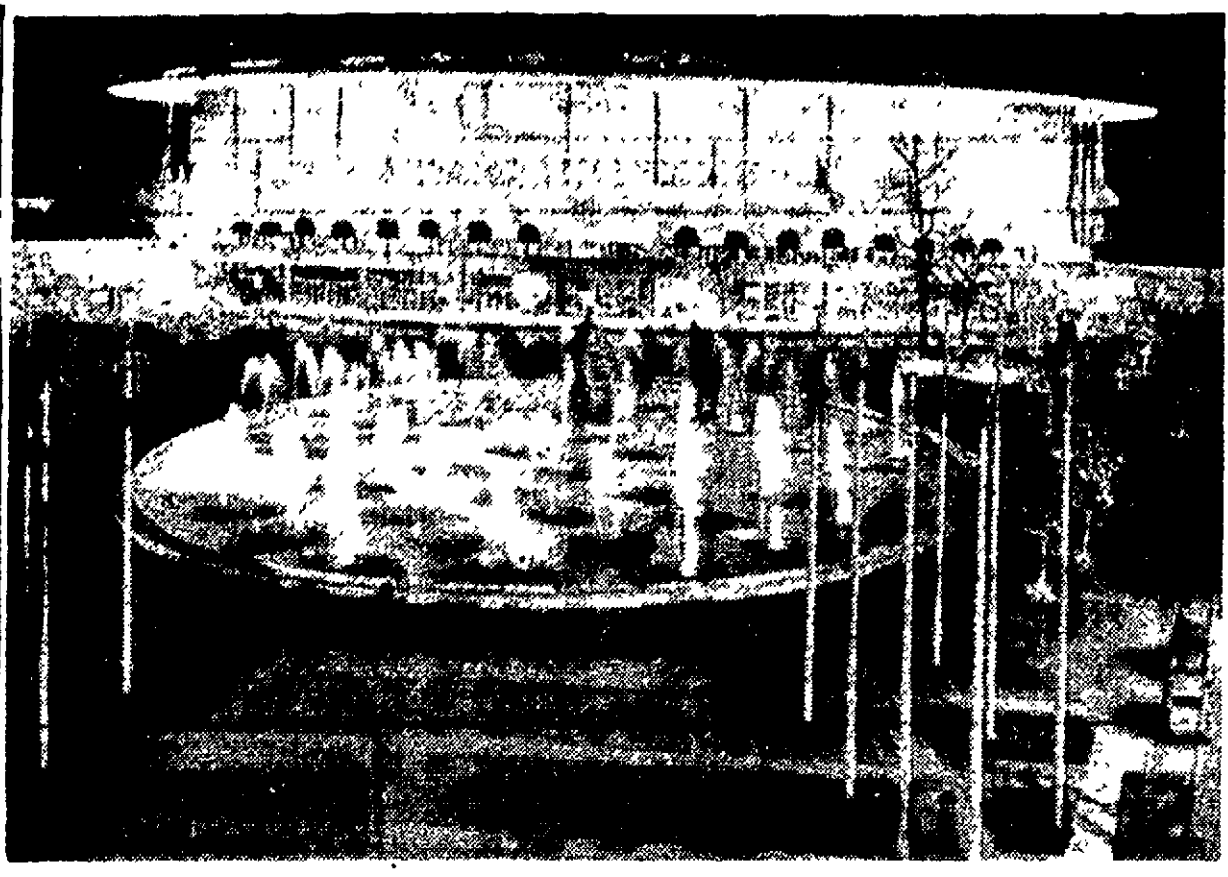

By early afternoon the Russians were pulling in the crowds at nearly 100 a minute. Across the road, at the American pavilion, the count was about 150 per minute.

Big crowds jammed the Soviet restaurant, where the air was heavy with the smell of borsch, frying onions and roast shashlik. Scores stood in line at the United States soda fountain—a replica of thousands found along the main streets of America.

Not to be outdone by the pretty hostesses and smiling young hosts at the United States show, the Russians this morning introduced sex into their exhibit.

To match the 210 American guides, the Russians presented a group of young men and women wearing powder-blue uniforms to mingle with the guests, discuss sputniks in many languages and chat about the achievements of communism.

Taking part for the first time in a World's Fair, the holy see has a huge exhibit known as Civitas Dei (God's city). It consists of restful lawns, striking murals on humanitarian themes and a church seating 2,000. Financed by Roman Catholics from all over the world it stands next to the American pavilion.

This is the Huge Circular building, fronted by a pool, that houses the United States exhibit at the world's fair in Brussels, Belgium. It is the world's biggest international exposition since World war II and the first world's fair since New York's in 1939. (AP Wirephoto)

40 U of W Students in Jail Following Riots

Police Use Tear Gas to Quell Howling Youth During Height of Demonstration

Madison — More than 40 University of Wisconsin students were taken to police headquarters Thursday night after a mob demonstration on Langdon street in the campus area.

Police used tear gas to quell students who sent up a howl of protest after a police wagon appeared to take demonstrators into custody.

Leroy Luberg, dean of students, accompanied by a policeman in a patrol car, had pleaded in vain earlier over a loudspeaker for the students to disband and prevent a disturbance.

Water Fight
On the previous night students staged a water fight in the same section, opening a water hydrant and using pails and cans to drench anyone who entered the area. The water fight lasted about three hours and ended without serious incident.

Police Chief Bruce Weatherly said his men moved in Thursday night when bricks, bottles, cans, rocks, eggs and firecrackers were used to pelt officers.

"We had no alternative when they started to throw bricks," Weatherly said.

Students taken into custody—all men—were released with or without charges.

Charge Thomson With Attempt to Force the WFU Into Silence

Madison — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Gaylord Nelson charged Thursday night that Gov. Vernon Thomson has attempted to force the Wisconsin Farmers Union into silence about the administration's farm policies.

What the governor is objecting to, Nelson told a group of party workers, is the Farmers Union campaign against the April 1 cut in dairy price support levels ordered by Agriculture Secretary Benson.

Thomson, according to Nelson, attacked Farmers Union leaders last weekend in Eau Claire because of what the governor called partisan political activity. Nelson added that the organization had disseminated material on the farm problem from both parties.

"If the governor feels he has been hurt by the Farmers Union activities, he has only himself to blame," Nelson said. "He has refused to disassociate himself from Benson."

The assistant majority leader became the third candidate Thursday to file for the party's nomination. Thomas G. Stumatz of Butte and J. M. Nickey of Bozeman filed earlier.

Mansfield, a specialist in international affairs, now is completing his first 6-year term in the senate. He previously was a congressman for 10 years.

Convicted in Wife Slaying

Independence Man Found Guilty of First Degree Murder

Whitehall — Roman Kwosek was convicted of first degree murder Thursday night for the shotgun shooting of his wife, Francis, last Dec. 6.

Kwosek, 24, of Independence, pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity. The all-male circuit court jury deliberated 5 hours and 55 minutes at the end of the 11-day trial.

Judge Lincoln Neprud said he would hear defense motions this afternoon and possibly sentence Kwosek at that time. The conviction carries a mandatory life sentence in the Wisconsin state prison at Waupun.

Kwosek admitted arguing with his 34-year-old wife over the use of her automobile. He denied that the shooting was premeditated. Kwosek also testified that he could not remember loading or pointing the shotgun.

Authorities said Kwosek fired two shells at his wife. Both struck her.

Kwosek remained calm when the verdict was read. During the trial he had sobbed uncontrollably as he was called to the stand.

State Chamber Loses Use of WSES Statistics

Madison — A. Thomas Rose, director of the Wisconsin State Employment service, said Thursday the state chamber of commerce had been removed from its mailing list because of "misleading use" of WSES statistics.

Rose contended that a chamber of commerce spokesman was quoted Wednesday as saying the outlook remains optimistic for an increase of employment.

He added that the chamber used WSES statistics for most of its observations but did not state as did the WSES that "employment downturn continues."

This, Rose contended, was "misleading use of WSES information."

Government Forces on Sumatra Capture Final Stronghold of Rebels

Swarm Into Padang; Troops Move Attack Toward Mountain Capital

Jakarta, Indonesia — Jubilantly proclaiming the capture of Padang, President Sukarno's government said today its forces are advancing on the last stronghold in Sumatra.

Six thousand marines, foot soldiers and commandos swarmed into the port city of 150,000 beginning at dawn yesterday and routed the rebels to the dense Sumatran jungles by nightfall. The next objective was Bukittinggi, the mountain rebel capital 40 miles north of Padang.

A Jakarta regiment also was reported moving on rebel troops in the Celebes, the octopus-shaped island 1,200 miles to the east which stood with Sumatra against Jakarta.

Too Friendly
The rebels claim Sukarno's government on Java has been too friendly with the communists and short-changed them on foreign trade revenues from their own rich oil, copra, spice and other exports.

The fall of Padang signalled the last days of the 2-month-old rebel government. But it remained to be seen whether the Sumatran rebels would make good their threat to wage a nagging guerrilla war from the jungles, the same sort of war which the Indonesians carried on against the Dutch until they got their independence.

The amphibious assault on Padang reportedly met with some rebel resistance, but how much was not made clear.

There was no report of casualties, the battle apparently was the first major encounter in the cat-and-mouse civil war.

The government reported its troops had taken 20 prisoners and seized a number of weapons from the rebels.

One destroyer and two corvettes shelled the city before the daybreak landing. An army communiqué gave this account of the capture of Padang:

Two companies of marines went ashore 6½ miles north of Padang. Paratroopers and commandos dropped close to the airfield, which had been left pock-marked by rebel dynamiters' scorched earth tactics.

Several waves of infantrymen landed about two hours after the shock troops, seizing a bridge securing the marine beachhead and pushing toward the airfield and the city proper. Air force and naval bombardment continued.

Within 12 hours the radio broadcasting and railway station were in government hands, and troops had fanned out to take control of the city district by district.

Develop Acid Identical to Original Life

San Francisco — From simple chemicals which presumably existed on the dead earth millions of years ago scientists have produced substances they believe to be identical with those which formed the first living things.

These materials include an assortment of amino acids, the constituents of protein, and finally combinations of these acids into protein-like materials. Protein is the basic substance of living matter.

The steps they followed in the test tube experiments were something like those taken by other scientists in attempting to synthesize protein, one of the great goals of biological science.

However, their object was not to make protein for its own sake but to demonstrate how the first building blocks of life could have been formed.

These scientists presented the results of their work in papers before the American Chemical society yesterday.

Dr. Stanley L. Miller of Columbia university showed how he produced amino acids from methane, a common natural gas, water, hydrogen and ammonia, with the aid of an electrical discharge.

Miller followed the conclusions of other scientists—that the young, lifeless earth had these substances in its air and oceans water, and that their last week and none were re-coming together could have been the result of lightning flashes during storms.

Work on '58 City Projects Starts Monday

The first 1958 city construction projects — sanitary and storm sewer projects — are scheduled to begin Monday. Public Works Engineer Henry Crowe said today.

Charles A. Green and Son, Inc., will begin installation of a sanitary sewer on N. Appleton street from W. Pershing to W. Weiland avenue.

Lloyd Kispert and Son, Green Bay, will begin installation of a storm sewer in N. Alexander street from E. Marquette street to E. Pershing street.

Green is scheduled to move to W. Weiland from N. Appleton west to the end of the street after the N. Appleton section is finished.

Kispert will move to E. Marquette from N. Alexander to N. Ullman street after the N. Alexander work is done.

The city council has not yet approved the list of curb and gutter projects for the year and the schedule for asphalt work won't be ready until later, Crowe said.

Joseph Van Daalwyk, contractor, who will install water mains, generally will follow Green's crews by about a week, Crowe said.

The city will advertise for bids for construction of the first unit of sewer and water laterals Saturday.

VNA Makes 393 Calls During March

Members of the Visiting Nurse association staff made 393 home calls during March, 63 more than the month before and 50 less than March, 1957. The figures were reported by Miss Inez Davis, nurse director, during the group's board meeting Thursday morning.

A case census shows 55 patients were under VNA care at the beginning of the month and 60 at the end of the month.

A breakdown of pay status indicates full payment was received for 190 calls and partial payment for 105. Seventy-two were considered non chargeable and 26 were under pension.

It also was reported four members attended the VNA biennial convention in Milwaukee. They were Miss Davis, Mrs. Joseph Foley, Mrs. C. G. Larsen and Mrs. Dexter Wolfe.

Englishman to Talk at College

Several Speeches Scheduled for Dr. John S. Whale

Dr. John S. Whale, an English theologian, will speak at Lawrence college April 24 and 25 under joint auspices of the Danforth foundation and the arts program of the Association of American Colleges.

He will speak at three public meetings. At 11 o'clock Thursday morning, April 24, he will deliver a convocation address, "The Supreme Issue of Our Time," in the chapel.

Dr. Whale will appear again at 4:30 Friday afternoon, April 25, in Worcester Art center on "Britain's Welfare State: A Critical Appraisal" and at 7:30 that evening in the union on "The Christian Faith in the Modern World."

In addition to the general talks, Dr. Whale will visit several classes and meet informally with faculty and student groups. An informal discussion hour is scheduled for 9:30 Thursday evening in Colman hall.

He has been active in ecumenical affairs, is the author of several books and has been prominent in religious affairs in England.

Cars Collide as School Bus Slows for Left Turn

A car driven by the Rev. Herbert A. Little, pastor of St. Mary Catholic church, Bear Creek, Thursday afternoon struck the rear of a car driven by William H. Ruth, 64, Eagle River. County police said Ruth had slowed to allow a school bus in front of him to turn left when the accident occurred on Highway 45 about three miles east of New London.

AHS Raises Money for Exchange Fund

Two projects have been carried out within the week at Appleton High school for raising funds for the foreign student exchange program. Both were sponsored by the AHS student council through its foreign student exchange committee headed by Lynn Meyer.

The student council conducted a bake sale which netted more than $50. Food for the sale was furnished by student council members and their assistants. In charge of the sale were Karen Calkins, Judy Rammer and Rhonda Cundy.

Tuesday afternoon an exhibition basketball game between AHS faculty men and the men from the junior high schools was played in the AHS gymnasium. All AHS students and students from the junior high school were invited to attend. Proceeds from the game were more than $30.

The committee handling the game consisted of Meyer, chairman, Leon Jansen, Bob Fentz, Dave Miller, Dave McIntyre, Jim Holzer, Paul Jack, Bill Dykema, Chuck Kunitz, Tom Temple, Pete Vollmer, Pete Hoeftel, Bob Douglas, Al Cunningham, Jim Zwerg and Bob Landis.

Planned for Saturday evening, April 26, is a student council dance called "International Holiday." Proceeds will go to the foreign student exchange fund. Invitations have been sent out to foreign exchange students in the area. Planning the dance are Penny Mitchell and Mary Quella.

Extra-Territorial Jurisdiction of Cities Needs Study, Expert Says

See Little Hope for '59 Legislation on Regional Government

Madison — A self-declared "optimist" told a legislative study commission here Thursday he sees little hope for achieving legislation authorizing a form of metropolitan area government in the 1959 legislature.

The comment came from Prof. J. H. Beuscher of the University of Wisconsin faculty, a specialist in urban government planning, who was asked to estimate the prospects for a form of metropolitan government that might serve the needs of those populous districts of Wisconsin which are now living under numerous local governments.

Beuscher said the committee probably would not have sufficient time to work out an acceptable and practical plan before the next legislature meets in January.

New Idea

The idea is so new—to Wisconsin—he implied, that it may also require a considerable period of preparation and public education to make it palatable.

The witness suggested as the major challenges in such a plan the problems of working out agreements on what area services should be performed and financed cooperatively, on a district-wide basis, in metropolitan-type communities, and how the political interests of the constituent municipalities ought to be represented on the area-wide governing body.

No other form of metropolitan governmental structure devised in the country, he warned, would be likely to suit and fit all of the conditions peculiar to Wisconsin.

But Beuscher urged the study committee to work on what he called preparatory matters, including the development of stronger regional planning commissions, probably through more persuasive state laws.

Fox Cities Group

(Legislation authorizing the creation of regional planning commissions in Wisconsin was passed by the 1955 legislature. The only such commission so far created in the state is the Fox Valley Regional Planning commission which was set up by the Fox Cities and several of their adjoining towns.)

The committee might also study, as a means of spreading interest in the idea, those forms of area service that might be best suited to area financing and administration through a new form of district government. Prof. Beuscher suggested that some of these might be schools, major highway improvements, and community recreational facilities.

The study committee during deliberations here this week in-

Mayor Asks Company to Stop Planting

Firm Was Using School Site on Questionable Lease

A barrage of complaints today forced Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell to ask Stokely Van Camp, Inc., to stop planting of crops on a future school site.

Property owners who live near the site of the future northwest side elementary school on N. Mason street at W. Glendale avenue made the complaints.

The land was purchased from Christian Van Den Heuvel, 2007 N. Mason, on a land contract. The city has one more payment to make.

Annually, the board of public works, by resolution, gives Van Den Heuvel permission to hay the field on his own as a means of keeping weeds cut.

Much Dust

This year, Mitchell said, Van Den Heuvel leased the property to Stokely. The company then began readying it for crop planting. With the dry weather, neighbors said much dust was being raised.

A quick call to the company put an end to the work at noon today. Mitchell said he will confer with company officials and Van Den Heuvel. There is a question, he said, whether Van Den Heuvel legally can lease the land to the company.

The company told Mitchell it was unaware the city had any interest in the land.

Car Recovered

A station wagon belonging to Herbert Smith, 113 E. Calumet street, which was stolen about midnight Thursday, was found the same afternoon by its owner in the entry road leading to the Menasha municipal bathing beach, police reported today. Smith reported his car stolen from a tavern at 2306 S. Oneida street.

Big Check to City

Treasurer Ray L. Feuerstein today received checks totaling $169,202.17 from the state as the city share of preparations for 1958 supplemental highway aids for local roads and streets.

He indicated that the general idea of area-wide government would be one of the major topics to be explored, for purposes of its report to the 1959 legislature. Assemblyman Carroll Metzner of Madison heads the investigating commission.

U of W Specialist Points to Appleton As Example of Issue

Madison — Problems in the extra-territorial jurisdiction of cities ought to get the attention of the legislature studying urban development, a University of Wisconsin professor said Thursday.

Prof. J. H. Beuscher of the University of Wisconsin Law school said that there is now a conflict in the state laws giving cities jurisdiction outside their boundaries in the approval of plats, the laying out of streets and other matters involving their future growth and development.

The Difficulty

Cities now have such extra-territorial jurisdiction for a distance of three miles from their limits.

The difficulty is that villages and smaller cities also have such jurisdiction, typically for one and a half miles.

Sometimes when a village is in close proximity to a city, the extra-territorial jurisdictions of the two overlap and there result conflicts of interest, he pointed out.

"The best example I know is the city of Appleton which has other municipalities close by, on its edge," he told the legislators and citizens composing the urban development study commission.

One Possibility

Beuscher suggested as one possibility a law that would give the parent city in such cases superior rights for literal extra-territorial jurisdiction in planning up to a distance of three miles.

He said the study commission should study such matters and attempt to improve legislation, as a first step toward working out a plan for metropolitan government in those populous districts that need it.

Charges U. S. Nuclear Arms Threaten Russia

ed in a summit meeting as early as possible.

"That is why we are meeting — to narrow our differences," the foreign minister said.

Gromyko declared one slip by a U. S. technician manning the radar screens of the American early warning system could precipitate a global atomic war.

The U. S. Air Force command, Gromyko said, has confirmed that American bombers carrying atomic and hydrogen bombs are repeatedly sent across the North pole toward the Soviet Union.

Bombers Turn Back.

American radar screen operators have mistaken electronic disturbances or meteorite showers for guided missiles or ballistic rockets, he said.

In every instance so far the bombers were turned back as soon as the error was discovered," he said.

"But what would happen if these generals — whose nerves, as the facts show, often give way — were not able to distinguish in time a flying meteorite from a guided missile and the American bombers continued their flights and approached the borders of the Soviet Union?"

The Soviet Union, Gromyko said, would be forced to take "immediate steps to remove the approaching danger."

Gromyko charged the United States picked the present delicate moment in international negotiations to launch the flights in an attempt to obstruct the convening of a summit conference.

Geese Blamed

He said on the other hand the Soviet Union is making every effort to ease international tension.

The first hint of the Soviet protest came Sunday. The army newspaper Red Star charged a flight of geese triggered air raid alarms that sent U. S. planes flying toward Russia with hydrogen bombs. Red Star said the Pentagon mistook the geese for Soviet missiles.

"There is an old saying that geese once saved Rome," Red Star added. "This time American geese could ruin the United States. But the main fault lies not in the flying geese but the geese who wear uniforms and kindle military hysteria, giving dangerous orders."

Replying to questions, Gromyko, said the Soviet government has already instructed its permanent representative at the United Nations to deliver the Kremlin's protest to the security council without delay.

On the Soviet position in the diplomatic preliminaries to a summit conference Gromyko said:

"We are seeking ways to reduce the length of these (diplomatic) discussions and to remove obstacles to the convening of a conference."

"An understanding was reached to exchange opinions through diplomatic channels prior to a summit conference but such an exchange can be prolonged for months or even years."

"In our opinion this would not be in the best interest of all concerned and these interests would best be served by removing obstacles on the diplomatic level in the shortest possible time."

Gromyko gave no indication of the progress of the diplomatic talks.

Gromyko denied, in response to a reporter's question, that the Soviet government had in effect accepted the western position by agreeing to start diplomatic talks. He said there were many aspects of the western position as laid out in the diplomatic note with which the Soviet government disagreed.

Gromyko also charged this week's meeting of NATO defense ministers in Paris did not contribute to the easing of international tension.

The ministers recommended a western alliance ground force in Europe nearly double its present size. The force would be backed by medium-range missile bases.

Gromyko said the Paris meeting showed that North Atlantic Treaty Organization leaders "are seeking to complicate the situation on the eve of the summit conference and are diametrically opposed to lessening of tension."

Seek Added Benefit Pay To Jobless

under state programs, with no change in state standards.

Unemployment benefits vary from state to state in amount and duration of payments. Workers coming under the program are paid from an insurance trust fund created from employer payroll taxes. Among non-covered workers, for example, would be employees of tax-exempt concerns with fewer than four on their payrolls. Domestic and farm workers also are not now eligible.

The Democratic plan rejected President Eisenhower's proposal for eventual state repayment of federal benefits. It also turned down his request to limit additional coverage to 50 per cent of the number of weeks provided under the various state plans. This would limit the extension to a maximum of 13 weeks in most large industrial states.

The Democrats dropped their original proposal to fix the amount of payments at a minimum of 50 per cent of the individual's average wage. Instead, amounts would remain in conformity with present state standards.

Estimated at $1 Billion

Inclusion of non-covered workers was not proposed originally by either the administration or the Democrats.

Committee estimates put at 40 per cent the number of non-covered workers among the current five million jobless. But it is anticipated that no more than 750,000 or 800,000 of this group will be eligible.

Under the Eisenhower plan, estimated to cost around $600 million, if the state did not directly reimburse the federal government, the treasury could get the money back from a rise in the current federal levy of .3 of 1 per cent to .45 of 1 per cent.

The cost of the Democratic plan is estimated roughly at a billion dollars.

Committee estimates place the cost of additional benefits for covered workers at around $750 million. No estimate was made of the cost of benefits for non-covered workers, but it was expected they would at least bring the total to a billion.

Tops Ike's Proposal

Twin anti-recession actions yesterday by the federal reserve board came as house Democrats pushed forward a billion dollar emergency program of help for the jobless. The Democratic program goes far beyond a $600 million plan President Eisenhower has proposed in this field.

Meanwhile, rival party leaders in the senate argued over whether the Eisenhower administration is being vigorous enough in fighting the economic slump. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) bemoaned what he said is "a policy of letting things slide." But Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said Eisenhower has taken effective steps while cooperating with congress in other anti-recession moves.

For the fourth time in five months, the federal reserve board reduced its discount rate — the interest charged member banks borrowing from reserve banks. The action, cutting the rate from 24 per cent to 13 per cent, is effective today in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Philadelphia and Minneapolis. The seven other federal reserve districts are expected to follow suit in time.

In another move aimed at making more money available for lending, the reserve board reduced the amount of reserves which certain banks must maintain against demand deposits.

county board took no action on a report recommending the removal of two couples who serve as managers and matrons.

"What the trustees brought out shows they are making a proper effort toward good administration," supervisor Laurel Hulse of Mukwonago, said. "The investigation has accomplished its purpose and nobody's been hurt."

Robert and Bessie Gall will continue as superintendent and matron of the hospital and Clark and Pansy Salter will remain as manager and matron of the infirmary.

"Taking the most charitable view of the report," the trustees said, "it was based on complete misinformation obtained from disgruntled former employees of the hospital and home."

The speaker implied through a set of statistics that salesmen themselves were partially responsible for the drop in consumer buying. He cited a survey taken last month of some 200 members of a Cleveland advertising club.

The men were asked if anyone had tried to sell them any one of 11 different consumer items ranging from an automobile to a fur coat since Jan. 1. On seven of the items, less than 10 per cent said they had been approached by a salesman.

Only 16 per cent had been asked to buy a new car.

Washington — For the first time in history, the per capita consumption of margarine has surpassed that of butter.

The agriculture department reported today that consumption of butter last year averaged 8.5 pounds while that of margarine averaged 8.6 pounds. In 1956, the butter average was 8.7 compared with 8.2 for its competitor.

A foggy night...rolling 45,000 pounds of freight, he had to stop!

Dear Sir:

In regards to your 58 Ford, I had experience with one on Rt. 20 west of Cleveland. The road was blocked, and this 58 Ford was the last one there and it seemed like I could see it twice as far as other makes of cars. That particular night was foggy, and with 45,000 lbs. of freight I had plenty of room to stop after I saw those lights, so I think you should demonstrate your cars out in fog, rain, snow, or what have you. Because if you notice a 58 Ford twice as soon, that gives you twice as many feet out on the highway to stop in, which would make your brakes twice as good, which would make the people in those Ford's twice as safe.

I've been driving for twenty-two years over the highways. I think it's the greatest safety that's been put on cars in years. So I want to thank Ford Motor Company and its engineers for making my job safer over the highways.

Yours truly,

The Mayor's Message

Mayor Mitchell has begun his administration by presenting to the city council and to the people a sound, sensible but nevertheless exciting picture of the challenges that face Appleton and what he hopes the city government can do about them. The theme of his State of the City address was "Community Progress" and in reading it one perceives that our new mayor has a deep understanding that Appleton today is a very different city from what it was a quarter-century or even a decade ago, that its problems are different and its potentialities much greater.

We are sure the mayor is aware that making such a speech is relatively easy, as compared with actually carrying out the proposals contained within it. The mayor's program is ambitious, and it would be foolhardy to expect 100 per cent consummation of these ambitions, certainly during the next two years. But if within a reasonable period the city accomplishes a major portion of the objectives outlined in the speech it will have made a giant stride on the road of progress.

We are living in an era in which the urban community is becoming a key ingredient of American life, and without doubt it is a period in which the sheep and the goats among urban municipalities already are beginning to be separated. The city that looks ahead today will be the vigorous, prosperous urban community of tomorrow; the city that fails to look ahead will fall by the wayside. Mayor Mitchell showed his awareness of this fact when he said:

We must be aggressive in our thinking and in our planning so that the people of Appleton will enjoy all the advantages and facilities a modern city has a right to expect. "There is no standing still, we either go forward or backward." It is my desire and I know it is yours also that Appleton shall go forward.

The mayor's idea of forming a citizens' advisory committee to consult with city officials on long-range planning is a good one. Such a committee, if its members represent the best leadership from all elements of our community life, could contribute much to the city's welfare by providing a channel through which our people can better inform themselves of the problems facing the city, and the city's officials can keep themselves informed about what the people are thinking. It should be pointed out, however, that such committees have been formed in many other communities, and in some cases have been relatively ineffective either because they were meant to be nothing but window dressing in the first place, because the committees themselves tended to lose touch with the people, or because personality conflicts or institutional jealousies disrupted their work. In the nature of things it will be the responsibility of the mayor himself to provide the kind

Risk Capital in England

Some 25 million people in 15 European countries are shelling out about $5,250,000 per week in the hope that they may be one of the winners of football pools.

Business has always been good in this racket in England and to some extent on the continent, but it has been given a boost by reports of recent winnings. Last November Widow Nellie McGrail won $547,000; in February Wally Brockwell, a cellarman and the father of four children, won $576,800, and last week Tom Riley, a coal miner, won $585,241. The names of those three winners are now household words in England and everyone with a shilling to spare is risking it on the chance that wealth will come to them overnight.

Now millions of impoverished people are scraping hard to find a spare shilling or two for betting in the pools. The picture of sudden wealth coming to widows, cellarman and miners keeps the money pouring into the pools. It is so easy to hope that few stop to figure that for each of the winners there must have been at least a million and a half

People's Forum

Using Force Never Helps True Faith

The appearance in Appleton of the movement to use pressure to stop shopping on Sunday is a symptom of something even more significant: the loss to secularization, of spiritual faith and conviction. Important trends point to this, as follows:

1. The vanishing daily family worship periods of Bible reading and prayer from many, many homes.
 2. The losing battle of the Sunday night youth meeting or evangelistic service.
 3. The midweek prayer meeting that in too many churches has lost out.
 4. The great number of Americans who flock to the lakes, streams, parks and resorts on the day they claim as their day of worship.
 5. The trend to attend church only on special days such as Easter, Christmas and Mother's Day.
- When choosing religious practice the early Christian did not ask, "Is it convenient?" His act was based upon the answer to, "Is it right?" True devotion, then did and now will, result in living by principle rather than in line with circumstances. What is needed today is Christian faith, spiritual conviction and inner devotion to God. These come only as a result of an individual's proper relation to his God.

of leadership that will be necessary to make such a committee a vital, working force in our community.

The mayor's desire to see Appleton have a community center, which was one of the planks in the platform on which he was elected, is surely an ambitious one. Such a building would be expensive to construct, and the council may find it difficult to justify such an expense at this time. Yet we feel, with the mayor, that Appleton has not sufficiently explored the possibilities of such a project, including its financial aspects. Certainly a great many citizens have expressed a desire for a community center over the years, and certainly Appleton is big enough today so that it should at least thoroughly explore the problem.

The mayor's support of the regional planning idea, and his recognition of the need for Appleton to cooperate wherever possible with its sister Fox Cities, are heartening. The development of a regional planning commission is, we think, the most important thing that has happened in the Fox Cities for decades; the citizens of Appleton, along with their fellow citizens in the other Fox Cities, have a tremendous stake in its program. It is essential that the officials of the various municipalities not only accept the regional planning idea, but support it vigorously and positively as Mayor Mitchell has promised to do.

By indirection the mayor recognized the long-festering conflict that has existed between the board of education and city hall, a conflict which we think has been unnecessary and a hindrance to good planning and efficient operation of our school system: We wish the mayor had grappled with this matter more forthrightly, had brought it out into the open in plainer language. Yet his recommendation that the council appoint a liaison committee to work with the school board obviously is an attempt to bridge this gap in understanding between these two independently-elected arms of city government. We hope the council accepts this recommendation and that the school board also accepts it in the spirit in which it was offered.

The mayor's address also included a number of more technical recommendations which need not be discussed here, although these columns may wish to take some of them up individually at a later date. In general, however, they seem to be sensible proposals which should receive the serious attention of the aldermen.

Mayor Mitchell has made, we think, an auspicious start as Appleton's chief executive by laying down a blueprint for action that can, if adhered to in any great degree, mean real progress for this rapidly growing city at this crucial period in our history. Appleton's citizens, we are sure, will be watching carefully to see how well this blueprint is carried out in action.

losers at two shillings each. Actually there are probably twice that many, for the operators of the pools figure to do at least as well as their customers.

It is estimated that 10 million Britons are pouring $162,400,000 into the pools each year. Of course, that money would provide some very badly needed facilities for the British people but spread out it would be rather thin and little noticed. Nothing it could buy would give the thrill of sudden wealth such as the winning of a half million dollars in a pool.

The pool idea has spread to 15 countries in Europe and is said to be hammering on the gates of the Iron Curtain. Such pools are illegal in most states in the United States, but millions of Americans spend long hours watching our bright young people run up fortunes on television quiz shows. With each winner in either a football pool or a quiz show millions of others take vicarious pleasure. In either case only a few can win but many others can live the great victory with them.

But history recites accounts of those, who, failing to resist the inroads of the secular life by invitation and persuasion, resorted to stronger pressures, and finally to force.

Force has not been suggested here, but we do well to look at the steps leading in that direction. They are as follows: invitation, persuasion, pressure, coercion, legislation, and force. For society, as for the individual, it is only a step—one at a time—from each of these to the next in line. A careful analysis should convince anyone that there is only a fine line of distinction between consecutive steps. We do well to ask, where does one end, and the next begin? When we move from one step to the next, how soon will we take another? Where will we end?

Christ said to his hearers, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden." It was an invitation. When they accepted, they went to martyrdom rather than violate their consciences. The form of worship, including Sunday closing, without corresponding faith and conviction cannot produce what is desired here. Give us faith and conviction, and true worship will follow without needless pressures.

Lana Turner Case Should Force Serious Thought About Family Life

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY
(Copyright, 1958)

In all the unfortunate discussion of the Lana Turner case, including the intervention of the character, Mickey Cohen, sight must not be lost that the central character is the child, Cheryl Crane, the little girl of too many fathers, from what appears in this picture, is a sad girl, who could have had everything but really had nothing and who became suddenly mature because she witnessed a procession of lovers and husbands and learned too much about life before she could possibly understand what she was learning.

This is not a private question. It is the social problem of the United States. Possibly when this child stabbed and killed Mickey Cohen's henchman, her mother's lover, she reminded the nation that our social institutions are based on monogamy and that polygamy and polyandry are intolerable in our civilization, no matter how generally practiced. They are intolerable because they disrupt the lives of children; they break up the home which means that children are made insecure. Among the poor, this system produces gangs; among the rich and in the middle class, they lead to hatred for parents, to confusion, even to subversion.

Child Is Important

Therefore, it is necessary not to think of the gigolo whom Lana Turner tooted around the world and from whom she accepted caresses and abuse. Nor need we think of Lana Turner who has satisfied whim and fancy without regard to her moral and social responsibilities. What is important is the little girl, the representative of the next generation who stands before the court, a child who killed what looked like a great big man. John, she called him. He was her mother's boy friend. The child was the daughter of the second marriage, and there were two more to follow, and then there was this bodyguard of Mickey Cohen's, who introduces himself over the telephone and became, unwittingly, the master of the household. And the mother became scared of him.

What a scene for bringing up a normal healthy child! So the little girl listens outside the door, while mother and the hood quarrel and he threatens to cut up her face. We do not need to know why. We only need to know that a child has been listening at the door to all the filth that must have been part of such a conversation. We now know from the ghoul's letters, what kind of people these were.

Then it is over. The child seized a knife to prevent the hoodlum from cutting up her mother's face. How many children in such miserable environments would like to do just that? How many of them will wonder when they grow older what has happened to their child? Did they have dolls or only hoods?

Society established the family as the fundamental of all social institutions. The family consists normally of one father, one mother and children. Sometimes a parent dies and there is, after a decent interval, another parent. Unless parents are decent, what can they expect of children?

Sacrifice the Child?

Perhaps Walter Winchell epitomized the force of the era when he wrote, in relation to this case: "It must be a terrible thing to force a man and a woman to live together, who can't enjoy each other." This is a characteristic point of view and represents a period in American social relationships. But what about the children of such a marriage? Are they to be sacrificed to the parent's inability to enjoy each other? Are they to be destroyed. In countries where harems exist or where concubines flourish under one roof, children are reared in an atmosphere of intrigue and hatred and jealousy. I have known the intimacies of such homes and speak not by heresy. Children can grow like weeds in such an atmosphere. Parents can destroy children without killing them. Parents can distort the minds of children by their misconduct and by vicious example.

Just as Sputnik I shocked this country, even slightly, out of its complacency and forced us to review our ideas about education, so the case of Cheryl Crane, Lana Turner's daughter, must stir this nation to think seriously of marriage and children and home. In the upbuilding stage, nations are generally puritanical; when looseness of living is permissible, the down-going stage of history is evident.

The distance walked was 10 miles — Mr. McCourt making it in 1:37:12. He will soon be able to challenge the west for the championship if he continues to succeed as well as he has done recently. Good for John!

Nelson, Proxmire Too Smart to Clash Openly

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Notes from the cuff of a political reporter:

There are those who believe that the protests of Gaylord Nelson and William Proxmire, the prospective leaders of the Democratic state ticket this year, about alleged ill feeling between them was slightly overdone. They appeared too anxious to deny, and did so at unusual length, for a pair who are getting along together as famously as they claim.

For all that, they are practical fellows and are unlikely to permit any differences between them to reach the public eye at such a strategic time as the start of a campaign season.

Wyngaard

The Wisconsin Food and Tobacco Institute relays reports that the retail food dealers of the state are planning a campaign to repeal the oleomargarine tax in the next session of the legislature, as well as other statutory restrictions against the movement and sale of the butter substitute. The Institute represents wholesalers.

But don't bet on the repeal of this law that has stood for more than a quarter of a century. Few legislators will be willing to risk the antagonism of the rank and file dairyman on such an issue. Even city representatives will hesitate—in the interests of the statewide support of their party.

Those who have observed the campaign style of Roland Steinle, candidate for the Republican party endorsement for United States senate, believe he must open up in his speeches and discussions to make an impression upon Republican convention delegates interested in getting a hard-hitting contestant for the race against Democrat William Proxmire. The campaign stump is perhaps an unfamiliar vehicle for a man who has spent many recent years on the bench.

Gov. Thomson recently appointed a Milwaukee CIO member of the Steelworkers to a per diem advisory committee of the state industrial commission, and got a warning letter from CIO Chief Charles Schultz for his pains. Schultz had nominated another CIO'er for the position, was annoyed that Thomson didn't take his word in the case.

Attorney General Stewart Honeck will run for a second term, but will take his time about announcing it. Meanwhile, insiders report that Gov. Thomson probably won't announce his own candidacy formally until the eve of the Republican state convention in Milwaukee five weeks hence.

Two of the bitterest enemies in state politics are two men who served together for a decade as members of the house of representatives from Wisconsin, Rep. Alvin O'Konski of Mercer and former Rep. Glenn R. Davis of Waukesha. O'Konski is leaving no doubt about his intention to oppose to the utmost Davis' conditional candidacy for U. S. senator this year, has even hinted to some ranking GOP politicians that he may run for the nomination himself if Davis gets the GOP convention endorsement he says he would accept, but not ask for.

Sen. Lynn Stalbaum of Racine, level-headed and serious, is rising in the Democratic party hierarchy. Should the Democrats ever control the state legislature, Stalbaum would be a powerful figure, as the almost certain chairman of the legislature joint finance committee. Should the Democrats win the governorship, even if the legislature remains in Republican hands, Stalbaum's position would be correspondingly crucial as the administration voice in financial affairs in the legislative branch.

Some key Republicans are urging Sen. Alexander Wiley, as the senior officeholder of the Wisconsin party, to lend a hand in the party's publicity and propaganda campaign without much result thus far.

Banquet Sunday Will Feature Talk by Gerald Hopfensperger

Kaukauna — The Home-School association of St. Mary's school will sponsor an athletic banquet for grade school athletes and cheerleaders at 6 o'clock Sunday night in the school cafeteria.

Gerald Hopfensperger, head basketball coach at Kaukauna High school and former cage star for Appleton High and Marquette University, will tell of some of his experiences as a player. Robert Goetzman will be master of ceremonies.

The affair will be open to the public with tickets available from officers of the association, football and basketball players, members of the hospitality and recreation committee and Mr. and Mrs. William Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. August Straus, Norbert Schmidt and Leo Haen.

Other Guests
Other guests to be introduced include the Rev. Peter Salm, pastor; the Rev. Joseph Bauschka, assistant pastor; Francis Gerow, football coach; William Knapp, basketball coach; Pat Casperson and Donald Bisel, assistant basketball coaches; Harvey Coenen and Gil Wettstein, assistant football coaches, evening supervisors for high school students in the gym and some basketball and football officials. Athletic awards will be presented by the coaches.

Summer Art Registration Now Underway

Kaukauna — Registration for the recreation department sponsored summer art classes got underway this week with interested persons calling Mrs. Roger Belling, instructor.

Registrations may be done Saturday when visitor's day will be observed from 10 o'clock in the morning until 4 o'clock in the afternoon in the basement of the municipal building.

Winter class students and the instructor have invited teachers and friends to participate in classes Saturday to be conducted as workshops, according to Mrs. Belling.

The hours from 10:30 to 12 o'clock in the morning will be devoted to lessons for upper elementary grades and high school students, the hours from 1 o'clock to 2:30 are for intermediate grades and from 2:30 until 3:30 in the afternoon for primary grade students.

Work done by students during the summer courses last year will be on display including regular art work, block printing and clay modeling done in current classes.

Methodist Club Social Night to Be Held Saturday

Kaukauna — The Methodist Couples' club will hold a social meeting at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the Methodist church fellowship hall.

Theme of the meeting will be "Art For Art's Sake," with members to participate in poetry recitation, sculpturing with clay, drawing with chalk, crayons and other art media and generally engaging in activities connected with the arts.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Speener will serve as host and hostess while members of the fun committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Lee Forman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lacey. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bastian will have charge of refreshments.

As part of the fun program, members are requested to bring along a picture of themselves taken when they were babies.

KRA Purchases Four Braves Season Tickets
Kimberly — The Kimberly Recreation association has purchased four season box seat tickets for Milwaukee Braves games and the ducats are available to members.

Tickets will be distributed on a first come first served basis. They are kept at Bill's Bar and members wishing to use them can pick them up there.

Giving Increases

Local Couple to Tour Europe as Contest Winners

Kaukauna — Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Jacobson, 823 Grignon street, Kaukauna, will leave tonight for a tour of Europe which will include visits to England, France and the World's Fair at Brussels.

The couple expects to return to Kaukauna about May 9. The trip comes as a result of competition among General Electric dealers from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan to ascertain which dealer reported the greatest percentage of increase in business volume over a given period of time.

Jacobson is owner and operator of Star Appliance company, Kaukauna. The local couple will make the round trip by plane, flying from New York to London but on the return trip flying from Paris to New York. The General Electric concern has a complete itinerary planned which includes stops at most famous or historical spots in France and England.

Police Ask Residents To Use Care on Street

Kimberly — Police have asked that persons residing on Second street where installation of curb and gutter has been started take special care in operation of motor vehicles on the street.

Police said persons along the street should make arrangements to park cars elsewhere. Parking permits can be procured at the police station.

Kimberly, Ghosts Tie In First Track Meet

Disqualification in Final Event Causes 59-59 Deadlock

Kimberly — The Kimberly High relay team was disqualified because of a foul in the final event of a dual meet with Kaukauna Thursday afternoon and the match ended in a 59-59 tie as the teams inaugurated the season here.

Judges said Sophomore Darroll Jansen of Kimberly crowded his opponent on a turn and therefore called the disqualification giving Kaukauna first in the event. The meet was a practice session for both squads.

Jansen was the star of the meet as he copped three firsts, including his specialty the high hurdles, and the low hurdles and high jump.

The Papermakers scored two slams, one in the high hurdles and another in the lows. In the high Jansen was first followed by freshman Tom Rooyackers and soph Jim Van Zeeland. In the high it was Jansen again and this time Van Zeeland was second and Joe Bolwerk placed third.

Kaukauna scored a slam in the discus where Berg was first, Kemp took second and Campbell was third. Winning distance was 117 feet.

In individual events Kimberly had eight firsts while Kaukauna had four. The Ghosts won the sprint medley relay 4:05 clocking.

The Results:
High Hurdles: 1. Jansen (Kim) 2. Rooyackers (Kim) 3. Van Zeeland (Kau) 13.6.

Kitchen Garden Can Be Pretty, Useful

Spring Cleanup Can Be Made Family Affair

Early Start Will Permit Work to Be Completed Quickly

Spring cleaning time can be a family venture with dad and the kids pitching in to help mom finish one of her toughest jobs. An early start will prevent frayed tempers, and the work schedule can be light- er for each participant.

Dad can supervise cleaning the attic, basement and utility room. All rubbish, old newspapers and magazines, worn-out clothing and broken furniture can be carted outside in a utility basket. It then can be set out for the garbage collector or burned in a rubbish burner that controls combustion and prevents sparks from igniting the house or garage.

Mom will find that if she concentrates her most difficult cleaning jobs in the morning hours, she will feel much better when it comes time to pre- pare the evening meal.

Use Mop Wringer Washing floors, for instance, can be simplified by using a long-handled mop and a mop wringer pail. All bending and stooping is eliminated. After the floors are washed, they should be protected with a self-polishing wax. Dust can be wiped off a waxed floor in minutes.

Two pails should be used when washing walls to prevent streaking and save time. One pail should be filled with soap and suds and the other with clear water. Wash the walls with the soapy water, starting at the bottom, then rinse with clear water. The bottom-to-top method of washing prevents hard-to-remove streaks from appearing.

Plastic draperies, venetian blinds, greasy range parts and barbecue grills can be cleaned quickly in a tub. The roomy tub allows plenty of working room while preventing the dirty water from splashing the walls or floor.

Plan Work Schedule A good procedure to follow during spring housecleaning is to work in only one room at a time. While mom is washing walls, woodwork and windows, dad can be cleaning the rugs or moving furniture. Children can get "into the act" by bringing clean water and cloths for mom, and handling the dusting and other lighter tasks.

Spring cleaning should be started right now if you are planning to decorate. Couples who do their own remodeling work around the house will need the extra time to complete the project before the temperature begins to rise and summer arrives. Professional decorators can provide quicker service to home owners who schedule them in early spring before the annual rush begins.

Test Your Prowess

Little Imagination Goes Long Way When It Comes to Home Decorating

BY VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

The difference between a beautiful attic and a dingy garret may be in the decorating. So, too, with other areas in the home.

One test of home decorating acumen is to visit a home decorated by different people at different times.

I have one living room in mind, a typical example. The first occupant of the house did the room in living colors — a vivid blue on the walls, a burgundy red rug, upholstered furniture in blues and beiges. The room was furnished with genteel taste, not flamboyant, but cozy.

Second Occupant The second occupants put a large Oriental rug on the floor, then proceeded to "decorate" around it. You'd look hard for color in the worn rug. Everything in the room except two chairs was gray-upholstery. The two chairs were covered in a dull wine fabric, the color chosen, they said, from the rug.

It was a depressing room that always had the look of a mausoleum, and the dreariness of the room eventually affected the newlywed occupants, too, because they were never happy, and soon parted from the house and each other.

Test your own decorating prowess, by doing over a small section of a room, foyer, bathroom or other small area, if you've been timid about putting your imagination to work on a larger area. Plan the colors, fabrics, woods and metals before you start, so the whole scheme will be cheerful and compatible.

Do-It-Yourself There are so many innovations for do-it-yourself enthusiasts these days, that you can do a test area at little cost, and effort.

New plastic wall tiles come in unusual shapes—a wedge-shaped trapezoid for instance, may be employed to create an interesting pattern on any flat surface. These modern mosaics would be particularly adaptable for one wall of a room.

Other materials in the luxury wall styling group include a rich wall treatment that is vinyl plastic, soft and flexible, but it may be applied with wallpaper paste. For all the deceptive appearance of elegance, these wall coverings are easy to put up, resist scuffing and may be scrubbed. They are backed with resin-treated cotton fibers laminated to prevent shrinkage.

Talk It Over If you are unhappy about your present decor, talk it over with the man of the house. Discuss colors that are mutually attractive. Then decide how you can improve an area. It may be a little jogging up that is needed—a new slipcover, lampshade, draperies, a small paint job or wall covering.

Choose an easy experiment as a starter. Once you get the hang of improving your living conditions at little cost and effort, no one will be able to stop you.

Atlantic Dew-Line The official said naval strategists of the three nations already have begun work on an Atlantic Dew-Line modeled after the distant early warning line guarding the skies across northern Canada. Radar and sonar (underwater) screens and devices are being developed to scan the North Atlantic from North America to Europe and take in the waters around Iceland and Greenland.

No details of these devices were given. The United States now flies radar picket planes over vast reaches of the Atlantic and its submarines engage in anti-sub exercises.

Informants said other anti-sub measures being considered include arming British and Canadian ships with nuclear striking power such as atomic depth charges and eventually the Polaris missile which can be fired from a submerged submarine.

Another possibility would be U.S. help for Britain in building its own nuclear-powered submarine. The United States now has nine atomic subs and the British are working on their own. The Polaris is scheduled for delivery to the U.S. fleet in 1960.

Find No Pattern In Plane Crashes

Omaha — A strategic air command spokesman said Wednesday night that no pattern has yet emerged indicating any single cause for a recent series of B-47 medium bomber crashes.

Capt. James Brady of the public information office said SAC is prohibited from giving out cumulative figures on the number of recent crashes, the most recent two of which killed eight airmen this week.

Capt. Brady said investigations of the recent series of crashes are not complete and therefore no corrections have been recommended and "we see no reason to ground the B-47 now."

He added that when investigations do show certain corrections are needed recommendations are passed on to all pilots, but often the information is restricted to the pilots alone.

Experience has indicated that accidents appear to occur in cycles and when such a cycle is noted there is increased emphasis on flying safety, more rigid inspection and other precautions are taken.

UW Professor Wants Accelerated Program for Gifted Children

If Youngsters are Capable, They Should Handle Advanced Work, Speaker Contends

Pleas to accelerate the program of the gifted child and to raise the standard of teacher requirements were offered to about 400 parents and teachers Thursday night by Dr. H. C. Klausmeier.

The professor of education at the University of Wisconsin spoke at the annual city-wide PTA meeting at Roosevelt Junior High School.

Wisconsin still has great strides to take in the area of educating gifted children, the speaker stated, and contended an accelerated program for those who are able to handle it would be an answer.

"I see no reason why bright children should spend 12 years in elementary and secondary schools and 4 years in college, the same as the not-so-bright students. Many school systems require all youngsters to spend 12 years in 12 grades regardless of their ability."

He recommended allowing youngsters to complete three years of study in two years whenever the child is capable of it, and moving him forward in some studies if he is socially mature enough to handle the situation.

In his attack on the state's teacher certification program, he said Wisconsin is the only state in the nation which certifies teachers after two years of training and which supports 2-year training colleges.

"We need competent staffs on all levels of teaching, but it looks as though the problem of county teachers colleges will be with us a long time. There are many communities in which the education of the parents is above the education of the teachers and we are the last state to do anything about certifying school administrators."

College Credit

"Only recently have we done anything about certifying psychologists. All teachers should consider whether vast increases in knowledge today don't warrant higher certification standards. I believe all teachers should demand a bachelor degree for elementary teaching and a masters degree for all high school teachers."

He also suggested possibility of offering some courses for college credit in high schools for students who are capable of handling them. These courses, he explained, would be arranged through colleges, although they would be taught by the regular high school staff.

Another suggestion centered about setting up summer school courses of regular academic subjects. "If we can support a big summer recreation program, why can't we use some of that money to offer instruction in art, music, science and other subjects?"

Still another means by which the gifted child's program could be accelerated would be by the crossing in grade lines in subjects in which the student is especially proficient, he stated.

"Why not give a ninth grader eleventh grade math if he can handle it? In music, if the child is good we let him play in the band regardless of the grade level. Why shouldn't that be done in other areas? Too often a bright child is not allowed to take a subject because he's not on the right grade level for it."

If the nation's schools have failed today, it's because society has failed, he contended. "I don't have the confidence I had several years ago," Dr. Klausmeier asserted. "If schools have not done what they might have done, it's because adults haven't been the kind of people who want the schools where they should be."

"People today don't want schools to upset the values of the community. The American public doesn't want schools or teachers to be reformers. But schools are our main hope today, for it is there the youngsters learn values for progress."

Heard Enough, Malmstrom Says

Council Refuses to Hear More Talk On Term Life Policies for Workers

The city council has refused unanimously to hear an insurance salesman talk about the board of public works' recommendation for award of a contract for $2,000 term life policies for city employees.

Ald. Donald Mueller suggested the council hear Arthur J. Coffey, but Ald. Homer Malmstrom immediately said he would object.

Malmstrom explained the board has been trying to settle on an award for months and if the council was going to hear Coffey, it ought to give the other 28 or 29 bidders time too.

The council then voted unanimously to award the contract to Equitable Life Assurance company, New York, and Carl Sherry, the firm's local agent.

Sherry will have until May 29 to file a certificate with the city clerk showing 75 per cent of the city's 268 employees are interested in buying the insurance. The city will pay most of the premium cost if the 75 per cent is reached, but otherwise the award will be null and void.

Other highlights of Wednesday night's council meeting:

$900,000 in Bonds

Sale of $900,000 in bonds to finance the city's share of the College-to-Candee high level bridge and sewer work generally was approved.

Bonded Debt

The bonded debt was reduced to $6,372,000 by the payment of $72,000 in principal and $7,535 in interest on the Franklin school and vocational school bond issues.

Voting Machines

The debt for 43 voting machines, purchased in 1951, was reduced to $15,892.80 in principal payments by payment of $5,297.60 in principal and $635.71 in interest. The machines were bought for $52,976 in 1951 and there are three annual payments left.

Contingent Fund

The contingent fund was reduced to $15,310.94 by the transfer of $635.14 from it to cover lack of funds for tax rebates granted earlier.

Industrial Park

The mayor and city clerk were authorized to enter into land contracts for the purchase of the 39.91-acre industrial park on the city's southwest limits.

Under the contract, Roy Win-city will be paid $1,500 an acre for 35.91 acres, with $10,000 paid down and the rest in five equal annual installments at 3 1/2 per cent interest. Roland Abitz will be paid $1,500 an acre for three acres, with $900 paid down and the rest in four equal annual installments at 3 1/2 per cent interest.

Some money has been paid down already.

Rental of about 30 acres of the park to William Schuh for $209 for the season also was approved. Schuh said he will use the land for farm purposes.

Marston Land

The Marston property on E. Kimball street, purchased earlier in the year from Roy and Louise Marston, was officially turned over to the vocational school.

The vocational school is to Welding Supply, Inc., to furnish the building and will use oxygen cylinders and equipment for the fire department's bination shop-warehouse and rescue squad.

Service Laterals

Alexander's bid was low among four submitted. Valley Welding's award replaces an unauthorized to advertise for bids.

S. Oneida Bridge

The mayor and clerk were authorized to enter into an agreement with the Riverview Country club where the city will make $8,750 in revisions to the club's golf course in return for a deed to land needed for the S. Oneida street bridge relocation.

E. Taft Sewer

The council agreed to replace the sanitary sewer in E. Taft avenue from S. Oneida street 475 feet west if the property owners on the south side of the street will replace their laterals under direction of the engineering department.

Juvenile Bureau

Chief of Police Walter J. Hendricks was given permission to select a member of the police department to attend a "juvenile aid bureau" school at Madison for two weeks starting April 28. The state will pay all but travel expenses. Hendricks said he will select the man by next Wednesday.

Summer Work

All proposed street, storm sewer and sidewalk work reported earlier — not including the projects covered in other stories in today's issue — were approved. The list includes the agreement with the state for the coming widening and reconstruction of N. Richmond street.

Bus Route Change

Fox River Bus Lines was given permission to reroute one of their buses to pass closer to Appleton Memorial hospital. The bus will travel along N. Owaissa street, E. Glendale avenue, N. Helen street, E. Pauline street and back to N. Owaissa street where it will pick up the former route. State public service commission approval is needed before the change can be made.

More Study

The claim of Mrs. Clara Steffensen, 1230 E. Calumet street, for a reduction of assessments for sewer and water laterals was referred back to the board of public works by a 16-to-4 vote.

Ald. Kenneth Priebe said the city was partly responsible for the fact that the woman paid for 35.91 acres, with $10,000 paid down and the rest in five equal annual installments at 3 1/2 per cent interest. Roland Abitz will be paid $1,500 an acre for three acres, with $900 paid down and the rest in four equal annual installments at 3 1/2 per cent interest.

Some money has been paid down already.

Rental of about 30 acres of the park to William Schuh for $209 for the season also was approved. Schuh said he will use the land for farm purposes.

60-Day Notice

Aldermen Ervin J. Bogan, R. P. Groh, Homer Malmstrom and Mrs. Dorothy Stilings, all members of the board of public works which had recommended denial of the claim voted not to refer back for study.

The state motor vehicle drivers' licensing examiners were given 60 days to vacate offices they now occupy in city hall. The city, it was said, needs the space for city offices.

Buy Chlorine, Oxygen

The bid of Alexander Chemical corporation Chicago to furnish chlorine for the sewage treatment plant and the Erb park swimming pool, was accepted.

So was the bid of Valley for printing of 3,000 city directories, for publication of council proceedings and legal notices for the next year and for closing of transoms and windows in the city hall attic.

Treasurer's Bond

A $150,000 bond was ordered purchased for the city treasurer from John M. Balliet for $971.25. It will cover the period to April 30, 1960.

Flag Day

Ald. Alvin Tews again was named Flag Day chairman for the council. He will work with a committee of citizens who put on a Flag Day celebration.

Close-Out Sale

Brauer's Clothing store, 226 W. College avenue, was granted permission to conduct a close-out sale from April 8 to 19 on goods it purchased from a defunct Milwaukee store. Former Mayor Robert L. Roemer had granted permission earlier, but the action required council approval.

Ald. Harvey Priebe, Sr., joined Ald. Homer Malmstrom in voting to deny the sale. Priebe said he agrees with Malmstrom that council rules which require forwarding of all new business to committees for study ought not be waived.

Licenses Listed

The tavern licenses formerly held by Ross C. Fitch for the tavern at 333 W. College avenue were transferred to Earl Junion, route 2, Menasha. Granted bartender's licenses were Edward Baumhardt, 215 N. Morrison street; Ray Cleveland, route 2, Menasha; Emil A. Kussmann, 1506 N. Mason street; Myron R. Schley, 730 E. Wisconsin avenue, and Dezzo Tornossy, 516 Church street, Neenah.

Appleton Post-Crescent 9 Friday, April 18, 1958

Change Name

Resolutions changing the name of the mayor on authorizations to the treasurer to deposit money in the city's banks were passed.

One of them set up for the first time a separate account for the Reid Municipal Golf course concession, a move which will permit the park board to audit the concession's profit and loss.

Street Lights

Street lights were ordered for the intersection of W. Brewster Street and N. Douglas street and for a point on E. Newberry street which is between S. Walter avenue and Telulah park.

The Dairyama

The city band was instructed to participate in the Northside Advancement association's Dairyama celebration June 28.

Plans Indefinite, Option-Holder of Avenue Lots Says

Ben Marcus, widely-known state theater owner, said today he has no definite plans for a block-long section of W. College avenue property on which he holds options.

Marcus' interest in the land on the south side of W. College between S. St. Mary street and S. Summit street, was disclosed after Wednesday night's city council meeting when owners of seven W. College lots petitioned for rezoning of their land to commercial district.

The section now is zoned residential.

The owners said they were unaware of any plans for the land, having petitioned for the change at the request of the H. F. McCarthy Real Estate Auction Sales, to which they have given options.

Marcus, a Milwaukeean, admitted today he and his brother-in-law, Charles Lowe, Oshkosh, hold the options.

Signing the petition for rezoning, which was referred to the city planning commission, were Sophia, Bernard and Frederic W. Swamer, Arlene R. Lewis, Frances and Oswald Gasser, Mary and Albert Selig, Otto Daclie, Nora Dick and Ruth and Alfred Thomson.

Neo-Japanese Decor Carries Out 'Deliberately Empty' Credo

BY SUSAN NOYES
Post-Crescent Society Editor

The Japanese have coined a word for it—shibui—or starkness—for an artistic philosophy which finds rich appreciation in the deliberately empty, focussing attention on one or two objects.

Charles Brooks, Jr., professor of architecture at Lawrence college, has slipped on the mantle of the Oriental artisan to create a room which finds beauty in space and interest in a few deliberately placed furnishings.

Designed in the Neo-Japanese manner, Brooks' apartment at 602½ E. Eldorado street is a successful example of the blending of two extremes—ancient Japan and contemporary America.

From the Land of the Rising Sun, Brooks has culled the traditional Shinto arch, Shoji screens, kakimono (wall hanging) and an original brush and ink drawing of a rotund Japanese gourmet feasting on delicacies.

Canary Named Yamamoto Like the Japanese too, Brooks seats dinner guests on cushions at a low table spread with bamboo place mats. Guests are introduced to "Yamamoto," a bright orange and green canary named after the admiral of the Japanese navy.

Contemporary America has contributed easy-care and modern materials such as the foam rubber floor cushions covered with washable, nubby cloth, the sprayed plastic lamp dangling from the ceiling and brass and iron in the bird cage and floor candelabra.

The sun-washed Southwest too, has influenced the room. It is brightly serene in a decor of gray, off-white and turquoise, accented sharply by desert tones of gold, beige, brown and orange.

Renovated in 3-Days The Neo-Japanese decor actually was a renovation operation for Brooks, who thought of the project at Christmas time and completed it in a quick 3-day semester break at the end of January.

Former furnishings has carried out colors of forest green, milk chocolate, brown and dead white. One wall was highlighted with an outline sketch of Lawrence college's Main hall and mock room partitions had been created by stringing cotton hookrug yarn from ceiling to floor.

The apartment's current interior decor features two imitation shoji screens, which were a cooperative endeavor of Brooks and his fellow Lawrence staffer, Thomas Dietrich, came

A Sprayed Plastic Lamp dangling from the ceiling lights the long, low dining table in the apartment of Charles Brooks, Jr., who has designed his living room in the Neo-Japanese manner. pus artist-in-residence. The screens serve as doors, concealing a small kitchen and bedroom.

The shoji screens are the architect's special pride. Brooks confides that muslin bed sheets, purchased in a seasonal white sale, is the fabric tautly secured by pine panel frames. The conversation pieces have proved to be almost transparent and throw light from the kitchen and bedroom in the living room.

Warm Color Accents Also eye-catching is the long, low table, five by eight feet, at which Brooks seats dinner guests. It consists of a hollow core plywood door placed on the top of a sawed-down study table. A handsome sheen was achieved by rubbing down the top with steel wool, then applying clear shellac and wax for protective coating.

Brooks' apartment actually displays only two other pieces of furniture, a long, comfortable couch with clean, trim lines and a chair of design to harmonize. The other three "chairs" are flat floor cushions, sized large enough to accommodate friends of 6-foot stature.

A shaggy rug-type material in warm orange-gold covers the couch and the warmth is repeated in the soft gold upholstery of the chair. The floor cushions are scattered shades of brown, beige and dull orange.

A glint of gold is also seen in the off-white drapes which cover one "window" wall which harmoniously blends with two gray walls and ceiling. Rough-textured brown cocoa mats cover the floor on each side of the low table. Texture interest is shown in the narrow wall hanging of matchbox-thin wood slats, termed a "kakimono" by Brooks. The mock artifact had been originally purchased for a bedroom window curtain.

Continuing the Oriental theme, the architect has ingeniously converted a Victorian door molding into a Shinto arch—on a 1-dimensional flat plane—with a stylized drawing in white, gray and turquoise. A brief departure—but only across the Japanese sea—is the placing of two Chinese ceramic horses, dating back to the Ming dynasty, against a shoji screen.

Pair Wed in Double Rites

Wed recently in a candlelight ceremony at the Evangelical Lutheran church, Navarino, were Miss Ethel Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Peterson, route 1, Shiocton, and Dennis Woehrel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Crescy Woehrel, Downers Grove, Ill. The double ring rites were performed by the Rev. Luther Monson. "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Mrs. Monson. Mrs. Melvin Prestrud was accompanist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Miss Alice Robley was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Lois Olson, cousin of the bride, and Miss Esther Svetnicka. Miss Barbara and Marilyn Woehrel, sisters of the bridegroom, were flower girls.

Acting as best man was Ronald Gerlach. Groomsmen were Charles Stoege and Everett Olson, cousin of the bride. David Van Selon and Wayne Weathers seated the guests.

Following the service 250 guests feted the newlyweds at a reception in the church parlors. The couple will reside in Aurora, Ill.

Lions Unit Hears Topic On Finland

Members of the Appleton Lions club auxiliary heard about Finnish customs and comparisons between that country and the United States when they met Wednesday afternoon at Lamers Tea room in Little Chute.

Miss Krisi Komsa, Appleton High school exchange student from Finland was the speaker. In talking about her native land, she said that skiing is a sport enjoyed by the entire family and groups go out each Sunday during the cold months. She also told about the Finnish bath or sauna, which she explained is the same today as it was when the custom was originated over 1,000 years ago.

In comparing high school curricula, Miss Komsa said that in her country more stress is put on education and less on activities than is done here.

In business action the club voted to change its guest day from May to October. The next meeting will be May 17.

Fox Cities Coeds Busy With Varied Campus Projects This Spring

School Plea Turned Down By Councilmen

Lutheran High Must Pay for Sewer, Water
Charges on N. Oneida

The city council has turned down a plea from a Fox Valley Lutheran high school official to grant the school exemption from sewer and water main charges.

M. O. Knoke, the official, told the council during a public hearing that the school is serviced with sewer and water from E. Greenfield street and would receive no benefit.

Aldermen Homer Malmstrom and Harold Hannemann cited the danger in setting a precedent which would permit other fraternal and religious groups to escape assessments. They pointed out that a 60-foot exemption is granted in all the motion when a letter from similar cases, but no more.

The vote resulted in questioning of a street and sanitation committee recommendation that the city forego stubbing sewer and water laterals into the Green Bay Catholic diocese property on N. McDon-

TAPPI Gives Nekoosa Chemist Memorial Prize

Verlin Foltz, research chemist at Nekoosa-Edwards Paper company, has been named first prize winner of the Dr. C. J. West Memorial Awards sponsored by the Lake States section of the Technical Association, Pulp & Paper Industry.

Foltz' paper concerned a simplified method for determining pentosans in pulp. Last year Foltz won the third prize award for his entry. Both papers were results of his studies on instrument analytical methods in connection with the company's experimental pulping activities. Foltz has been a member of Nekoosa-Edwards research department since September, 1953.

Need for Knowledge Stressed by Scientist

Dr. A. E. Whitford, UW Astronomer,
Speaks at Fox Valley Alumni Dinner

Against a background discussion of satellites, how they work and their importance, Dr. A. E. Whitford, University of Wisconsin scientist, said Thursday night that the future belongs to the nation with the most advanced knowledge and the ability to use it.

The director of Washburn observatory and physicist of the university astronomy department spoke at the founders day dinner of the Fox Valley Alumni association of the University of Wisconsin at American Legion hall.

"The way of the future lies in the battle for men's minds," he said, "and we can no longer assume that we are effortlessly the best. We have to work at it."

He pointed out the national attitudes toward education are changing, citing the scholarship bill before congress to aid the gifted child to go to college. The gifted student long has been discouraged by such epithets as "brain" and "square," but we are on the way of changing that, he said, noting that we need to develop wisdom and to respect the man who knows his field.

Jolted by Russians
The launching of the first satellite Oct. 4, 1957, by the Russians gave us a jolt, Dr. Whitford asserted.

"Since then there has been a reawakening, an inward looking at our schools and universities," he said. "We want our schools to be better and we know we are facing a world in which we can't afford to have anything else."

In discussing what an astronomer thinks about satellites, Dr. Whitford said they "do what comes naturally," exactly the same thing the moon has done for many centuries. As for the satellites themselves, he said he took no stock in their use in the race for space. For military objectives, missiles are better, he said.

Double Ability
"The important thing to understand," the speaker said, "is that the nation which launches satellites also has the ability to launch intercontinental missiles."

The value of present satellites is mostly their use in obtaining information about the earth, he pointed out, such as determining size of an ocean by the amount of time it takes a satellite in orbit to cross the body of water. One of the many things scientists want to know is the amount of heat radiation that comes into the atmosphere from the sun. This, he explained is important because it has a bearing on the weather.

The satellite as the key to new frontiers in outer space and the development of man's future knowledge of the universe was discussed by the scientist.

He said the possibility of seeing the universe as it really is seems exciting. He explained the earth always is at the bottom of the atmosphere like a fish at the bottom of the pool, wondering what's upon the bank. The knowledge of that bank, he said, is distorted by the ripples of water, which he likened to the ripples of the atmosphere.

During the business session of the alumni group, five directors, all from Appleton, were elected. They are William Eberkasky, Jerome Marquardt, Donald Herling, Franks Nebs and Dr. Ralph Kennedy.

District Jaycees Honor Selle for Appleton Work

William A. Selle, Appleton, was elected District 5 vice president of the Wisconsin Junior Chamber of Commerce when district members met Thursday night in Oshkosh. He is president of the Appleton Jaycees.

Selle also was presented with the Jim Fletcher award, presented each year to the outstanding District 5 Jaycee president. He received the award for "the outstanding work the Appleton Jaycees have done, his cooperative participation in national, state and district activities and for his community service as president."

Appleton was presented with the national Jaycee orientation award at the dinner meeting for having successfully completed all requirements of the national orientation program.

8 Teenagers Will Attend Youth Day

Eight Appleton teenagers will attend the Wisconsin YMCA Youth and Government day program in Madison, April 25 and 26.

They are Connie Menning, Barbara Jones, David Anderson, Alfred Gosha, Jr., Madelyn Evans, L. O. S. Salzman, Jan Kriek and Jan Schroeder.

They will attend sessions of a model legislature and hear a talk by Gov. Vernon Thomson at a dinner meeting.

Dr. Douglas Knight, president of Lawrence college, will serve as advisor to the Appleton delegation.

Mercury Sets New Record For April 17

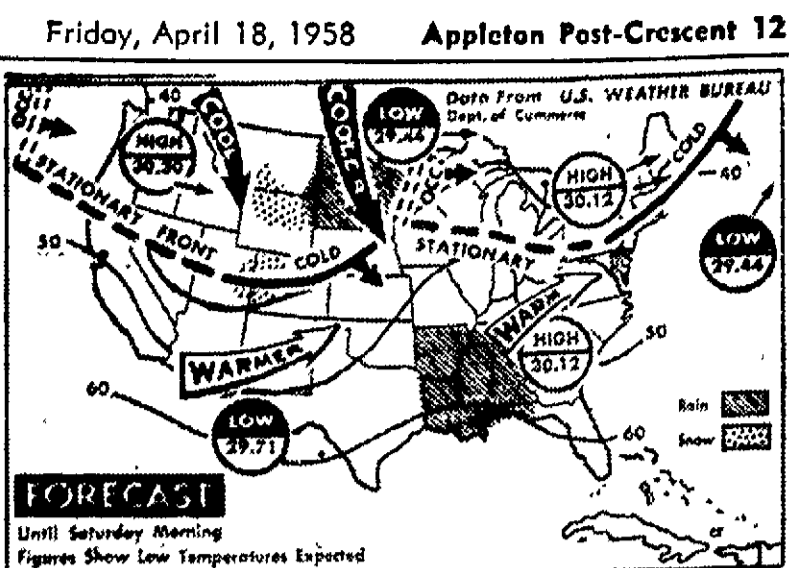

Thursday was the hottest April 17 on record in the Fox Cities and many other places in Wisconsin. In Appleton, the high was 83. The previous high for the day was 76 in 1927. Records have been kept by the Wisconsin Michigan Power company since 1900.

Green Bay, also registered a high of 7 degrees more than the previous record for the day. Its high also was 83, and the old record 76. Madison's 82 topped its previous mark by 4 degrees. And Milwaukee recorded 84, compared with the previous high of 79 in 1927. Those highs were as much as 30 degrees above normal.

The power company records show the hottest day ever experienced in April was the 28th in 1915. The reading then was 85. In 58 years, the temperature has only gone to 80 or over 10 times in April.

Cool air entered the state late Thursday and dropped the Appleton overnight low to 46. The temperature at 11 o'clock this morning was 66, with the wind from the northeast at 10 miles an hour.

The state forecast calls for considerable cloudiness with some showers tonight. The showers will end Saturday and

Showers are Forecast for Tonight for the upper Mississippi valley with showers and thunderstorms in the Gulf coast states. Snow showers will continue in the higher elevations of Wyoming and Colorado. Warm weather will continue in the east with cool weather in the northwest and part of the central plains. (AP Wirephoto)

Canadiens Take Playoff Lead With 3-2 Win

'Rocket' Richard
Scores at 5:45 Mark
Of Overtime Period

Montreal—(AP)—Maurice Richard rifled in an overtime goal Thursday night to give the Montreal Canadiens a 3-2 win over the Boston Bruins and the same 3-2 margin in the Stanley cup final.

The end to the sudden-death struggle came at 5:45 of overtime play. The shot was only the second Richard had been able to fire on the Boston net throughout the long struggle.

The big goal that once again gave Montreal the edge in the best-of-7 series marked the sixth time Richard has broken up overtime games in his 13 appearances in post-season play.

It was also the eighteenth time "The Rocket" has scored the winning goal in playoffs.

Richard was modest in talking of the shot in the dressing room afterwards. "I just shot and the puck went into the net. I was passing all night and it was the first real shot I had."

The game was a desperate struggle, each team giving everything to grab this big fifth game before the series moves to Boston for the sixth game Sunday.

Weaver and Collins Lead

Shoot 65s in 1st
Round of Kentucky
Derby Open Tourney

Louisville, Ky. —(AP)—Bert Weaver's easy swing around Seneca golf course led him to forecast today that a 267-17 under par—would be needed to win the Kentucky Derby Open tournament.

Other players agreed that yesterday's disregard for par would be continued through Sunday's final round—thanks mainly to application of a duffer's rule that permits improved lies anywhere on the course.

Spring came late in the Blue Grass. Bare spots on the course necessitated the special rule.

Take Full Advantage
The touring pros took full advantage of it. Thirty-three shaved one to seven strokes off of par 35-72.

Weaver, from Beaumont, Texas, and Bill Collins of Grossingers, N.Y., set the pattern with 65s—good for a 1-stroke lead over veteran Chick Harbert, Northville, Mich.

Another stroke behind were Dow Finsterwald, Tequesta, Fla.; Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn.; and Tony Lama, Napa, Calif.

Bunched in the 68 bracket were Doug Ford, Mahopac, N.Y.; Bill Nary, Albuquerque, N.M.; Paul Harny, Worcester, Mass.; Tom Nieporie, Cincinnati; Garry Player, Johannesburg, South Africa; Frank Stranahan, Toledo; and Ed Oliver, Hesperia, Calif.

Six Vikings Will Compete At Monmouth

Fast Starting Ed Mathews Boosts Homer Total to 4

Blasts Pair in 6-1 Win Over
Bucs; Burdette Allows 7 Hits

Milwaukee —(AP)—Lew Burdette and Eddie Mathews played together in a regular Braves' game Thursday for the first time since the seventh contest of the 1957 World Series—and they proved just as poisonous to the Pittsburgh Pirates as to the Yankees.

Fidgity Lew, making his 1958 debut, defeated the Pirates, 6-1, on a 7-hitter before a ladies' day crowd of 14,565.

It was Burdette's tenth consecutive triumph over the Bucs since June 20, 1954, when they beat him in the first game of a doubleheader at Forbes field.

Mathews supplied all the batting punch the Braves needed to break into the National league victory column with a pair of prodigious home runs and five runs batted in. He now has 4 hits—all homers—and 7 RBIs in two games.

The Braves are in Philadelphia for a night game tonight.

The Braves took a 1-0 lead in the third when they got four consecutive hits off starter and loser Vern Law. The total should have been higher, but Del Crandall was cut down trying to go to second on the throw to the plate.

Johnny Logan led off with a 2-base hit, went to third on Crandall's safety and scored on Burdette's bloop single to short right center. "Red" Schoendienst followed with another single, but Law retired Hazle and Mathews to kill off a very promising rally.

Roberto Clemente collected his fifth hit of the 2-game series, a triple to the center field fence in the fifth, and scored.

Foxes Reduce Squad to 20, Leave Training Site Sunday

Pitching Continues to Look Good
As Fox Cities Entry Runs
Exhibition Game Record to 6-2

The Fox Cities Foxes' pitching continued to look good Thursday as they ran their exhibition season record to 6-2.

Manager Pete Suder reported from the Fernandina Beach, Fla., training base that the Foxes beat the Senators' Class D Elmira club, 10-2, behind the pitching of Ernie Stuns and Bill O'Donnell.

Stuns gave up both runs in his 5-inning stint, while Oshkosh's O'Donnell hurled 1-hit ball in the last four innings.

Hilario Valdespino led the Foxes attack with three singles, and Tom Taylor came up with a double and a single.

Felker Works Five
Wednesday, the Foxes stopped Elmira, 1-0, as winds that were gale-like in intensity hampered play. Catcher Ed Raczyński singled in the winning run. Bill Felker, a right-hander on option from Charlotte, worked the first five innings for the Foxes, while southpaw Bill Griffith finished up in equally scoreless fashion.

The Foxes were to play Elmira again today and Saturday. Elmira is the only other club left at camp besides the Fox Cities entry. Fort Walton Beach and Gainesville left the training base Thursday, while Charlotte and Missoula had left earlier.

Suder feels the 1958 Foxes—the second club of his managerial career—is far stronger than the one he had last year in the Class B Carolina league. "There's no comparison," he says.

For one thing, his 1957 club was overloaded with rookies. Suder explains, and for another, the Senators had two Class B clubs for which to provide players. This year the Foxes are the only one.

Decide On Catcher
Suder and Senator Farm Director Sherry Robertson have decided on 18 of the 19 players the team will bring north next week. The only indecision is in the catching department.

Suder and Robertson were to decide today whether to retain Bob Payne or Bill McKean as the right-handed hitting catcher.

Raczynski, a left-handed batter, has already been selected as one of the two receivers.

The nine pitchers who'll make the trip here are Stuns, O'Donnell, Griffith, Felker, Ted Sadowski, Al Guenther, Rene Nodarse, Gary Mitchell and Ron Bloodworth.

The infielders are Tom Taylor, Addie Hintze, Bob Van Dyke and Navarro Ramon Davis. The outfielders selected are Tom Palamar, Valdespino and Julio Castro. Bob Tano will be the utility man.

Few Changes Possible
Although this is substantially the team that will open the Three-I league season for the Foxes, several changes are still possible, according to Suder.

Charlotte, of the Class A Sally league, still hasn't cut its roster down to the final minimum.

Clintonville—Clintonville and Marion played to a 3-3 10-inning stand-off in a high school game at Marion Thursday afternoon. Darkness halted play.

Ken Wolff pitched all the way for Marion, allowing 10 hits, striking out seven while walking only two. He tripled home a run in the seventh and scored the tying run on an error on the same play.

Clintonville used two pitchers. Sophomore Jim Petcka started and carried a 3-1 lead into the seventh. Petcka was replaced by Dave Bohman after a walk, Wolff's triple and an error tied the score. Marion's Terry Balderson greeted Bohman with a single. But, Bohman settled down and didn't allow another hit the rest of the way.

Marion got runners on third with none out in both the eighth and ninth innings on balls and errors but failed to dent home plate with the clinching marker. Bohman squirmed out of a jam in three of the four innings he pitched.

Marion opened scoring in the first. Wolff doubled and Balderson's line single brought him home.

Dick Koeppen tripled home Bob Gensler in the Trucker second to even the score. A wild series of errors after Terry Lichtenberg's walk and Leon Buchberger then singled in the third Clintonville run.

Petcka kept himself in hot water with nine walks. He fanned five. Bohman struck out five and passed two. Lichtenberg paced Clint hitting with two doubles and a single.

Fastballing righthander Wolff completed his iron-man performance by whiffing the final three Trucker batters.

Balanced Scoring Gives West Pros 132-124 Victory

Spokane, Wash. —(AP)—Balanced scoring by three players carried the West to a 132-124 victory over the East Thursday night and a 3-1 lead in the National Basketball association All-Star tour.

Bob Pettit scored 25 points. Gene Shue tallied 23 and Dick Garmaker hit 20 for the West. Pettit's 15-point burst in the third quarter turned the tide for the West, which trailed at halftime 63-58.

Dolph Schayes of the East led all scorers with 29 points. Of Chester "Chet" McGraw, Bob Cousy sat out much of the second and all of the third leg, Northfield, Minn., as di- period and Boston teammate Bill Russell was not suited up. A crowd of 3,166 watched.

San Francisco's Willie Mays Slides into second base as Los Angeles' PeeWee Reese reaches for the ball during the first inning of Thursday's game. Mays was safe as Reese bobbled the throw from second baseman Charlie Neal on what looked like the start of a double play. Reese was charged with an error. The Giants won, 7-4. (AP Wirephoto)

Cubs Tip Cards for 2nd Straight Time

Long's Sacrifice Fly Provides
Winning Margin; Giants Triumph

By The Associated Press
Stan "The Man" Musial has yet another National league record in the bag today, but the St. Louis Cardinals are still looking for that first victory in what some folks picked to be their pennant year.

Musial, at 37 closing in on a cluster of standout hitting records, slammed past Mel Ott's league record for total bases with a home run and a single Thursday night, but it wasn't enough to ward off a 4-3 defeat by the Chicago Cubs.

Giants Rap Newcombe
Musial has collected 5,046 total bases on 2,960 hits while padding his NL record of longings to 1,157 with his 382nd home run. Ott totaled 5,041 bases in his 22 seasons; Musial, in his seventeenth season, now ranks No. 5 among the major league total-bases leaders, topped by Ty Cobb's 5,863.

San Francisco clobbered Don Newcombe early and defeated Los Angeles, 7-4.

Dale Long's sacrifice fly scored the Cubs' deciding run in the eighth. Rookie Tony Taylor lined a 2-run single and Jim Goryl rapped a homer for a quick 3-0 lead against loser Lindy McDaniel.

Bobby Thomson collected three of the Cubs' nine hits in their second straight win.

Musial's homer, giving the Cards, their first run in 13 innings this season, came off rookie Glenn Hobbie, who won his first victory with relief help from Dave Hillman and Ed Mayer.

Winner Curt Barclay and Marv Grissom shut out the Dodgers on three hits over the last 5-1-3 innings in relief of Johnny Antonelli, who blew a 3-0 lead by giving up five hits and six walks. The Giants took the lead for keeps, 6-4 in a 3-run fourth, when "Newk" pulled out with a pulled muscle after rookie Bob Schmidt rapped him for a home run that tied it 4-all.

Godih Meets Larry Baker in Bout Tonight

Washington —(AP)—Lahouari Godih, who three days ago didn't know when he'd crash an American ring, gets the opportunity tonight in a 10-round bout with Larry Baker of Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

Godih is a 28-year-old Algerian who last year won the French lightweight title. He's fought all over Europe and came to the United States this year with ambitions of challenging world champion Joe Brown.

Godih hasn't made it that far yet. But he's getting a shot at Baker because of postponement of the fight originally scheduled for tonight's regular Friday TV-radio hookup (NBC, 9 o'clock, CST). Alex Miteff of Argentina, who had been matched with Willi Besmanoff of Germany, withdrew because of a severe body rash and a nose injury.

Since turning pro in 1952 Baker has won 21, lost 13 and drawn 3.

Godih is 45-3-2 for eight years in the ring.

Eggert Fails to Get Pro Contract But Terms Camp Stay Worthwhile

A deeply-tanned Darold Eggert returned to the Fox Cities from Waycross, Ga., this week.

— but not much sadder — ballplayer for his experiences in the Milwaukee Braves' minor league camp.

The Menasha youngster thoroughly enjoyed his 5-week sojourn at Waycross.

Eggert was chosen to go to the camp after playing in last August's Silver Sluggers game in Milwaukee County stadium.

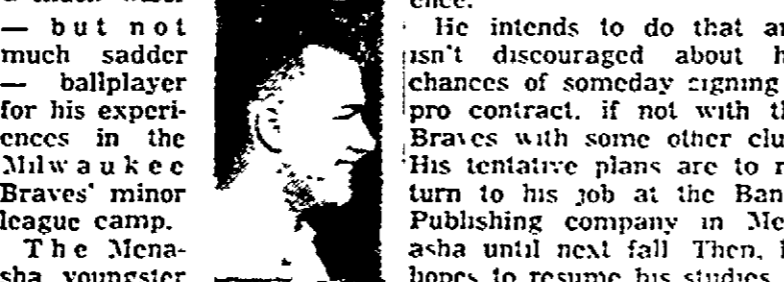

Miss Berg fired a 1-under-par 72 in the pro-am meet Thursday which launched the 3-day, 54-hole event over the 6,361-acre yard Beaumont Country Club course.

Miss Rawls carded 74 and has looked impressive in practice.

Three of the 10 Silver Sluggers with Eggert at Waycross were signed by the Braves to minor league contracts Monday.

He may play with the Menasha Macs again this summer.

Eggert's final weeks at Waycross were devoted to intrasquad practice games twice-per-day during the week and once on Sunday. Although there was an overabundance of catchers in camp at this point, Darold

Orioles Record 4-0 Victory Over Nats, Remain Unbeaten

Yankees Join Tigers, A's in Second With Win Over Boston

Mathews Hits 2 Homers in 6-1 Triumph

the tying run on Gene Baker's sacrifice fly.
Mathews promptly untied the score in the Braves' half of the fifth, smashing a towering drive into the right field bleachers with Schoendienst and Hahn. The two-run homer, which came on a single and a walk, respectively. The mighty blow put the Braves ahead for good, 4-1.

Mathews unloaded his second circuit smash of the game off rookie pitcher Benny Daniels in the seventh, following Schoendienst's single to left. Eddie cleared the left field fence on a line drive with this one.

Asked after the game if he realized the Pirates haven't beaten him in four years, Burdette cracked:

"Shhh. Don't tell them. They may get mad and catch up with me."

Marathon, IPC Gain Olympics Cage Finals

Beat Lakeview, Police Clubs In Tournament

Marathon and the Institute of Paper Chemistry gained the finals of the YMCA Industrial Olympics basketball tournament with easy victories Thursday night.

Marathon tripped Lakeview, 69-43, as Tom Rosenow collected 17 points for the victors and Bob Erickson hit a like total for Lakeview.

The Institute smashed the Appleton-Neenah Police, 72-41, as Don Cornell collected 28 points for the winners. Carl Thiel led the Police with 12 tallies.

Kubek Fails To Report for Induction

Milwaukee — Tony Kubek, star shortstop of the New York Yankees, failed to appear to be sworn in for six months Army reserve training.

Kubek, who has denied that plans to go into the Army now, remained in New York with the baseball club.

Maj. Gerald J. Mulrine of the South Side Army Reserve base announced several days ago that Kubek, whose home is in Milwaukee, had signed up for reserve training and had taken his physical examination. All that remained, the major said, was for Kubek to be sworn in. This was to have taken place today.

NBA May Withdraw Its Recognition of Brown-Dupas Fight

Racine — Gilbert Jackson, president of the National Boxing association, said Thursday the NBA might withdraw its recognition of the Joe Brown-Ralph Dumas lightweight championship fight at Houston, Texas, May 7.

Jackson said Brown, the titleholder, had complied with the NBA's demand to post a $5,000 bond guaranteeing Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., a title shot within 90 days after the Dumas bout. But Dumas has not done so, Jackson said, and the NBA has had no word from his manager, Angelo Dundee.

Unless both men post the bond, the NBA will withdraw its sanction of the bout, Jackson said.

"All that the NBA demands is insurance that the winner of this fight meets Lane, the No. 1 ranking contender," said Jackson.

Dupas is ranked No. 2 challenger for Brown's title.

Robert Lieber Heads Trinity Bowlers

Robert Lieber, Neenah, was elected president of the Trinity Lutheran church bowling league at the annual dinner meeting Wednesday night at Stroebe's island.

He succeeds Walter Centner, who declined to run after serving three terms. Wayne Borsche was named vice president, succeeding Otto Lieber, and Stanley Bethe was reelected secretary-treasurer. All are from Appleton.

The league will open its 1958-59 season at Hahn's alleys Sept. 12.

Billy Fischer's Brother Hurls No-Hit Victory

Marathon — Tom Fischer, 16-year-old brother of Chicago White Sox pitcher Billy Fischer, pitched a no-hit game Thursday—his second in two seasons—as Marathon High school defeated Athens, 1-0.

Facing 23 batters in the 7-inning game, the young Marathon right-hander struck out 15, walked one and hit one with a pitched ball. He also scored the winning run.

he was playing beat Cedar Rapids, 5-3, in a practice game.

"They were a real good-hitting outfit," Eggert remembers, "and are expected by Braves officials to win the Three-I title again this season."

(The Braves operated their Three-I franchise at Evansville, Ind., last season and Evansville, no longer in the loop, won the flag.)

Eggert was a catcher during most of his stay in Georgia but he played shortstop the last few days.

"I thought I knew about baseball before," he remarks, "but I really didn't."

"One of the big things I learned was how to slide correctly—using the hook slide from both sides and the bent leg slide. They also worked us hard on taking an extra base whenever possible."

Among the people who either worked as instructors at the camp or who gave talks to the boys was former Appleton Papermaker Manager Travis Jackson, a "tremendous guy who took time out to talk over my problems with us," according to Eggert. "Jackson knew when to joke and when to be serious," Darold observed.

Bruton Helps Out

Others included: batting instructor Paul Waner; Braves' chief midwest scout Eddie Danisak; "Doc" Gautreau, who ran the Appleton Silver Sluggers camp; Eau Claire Manager Gordon Maltzberger; Ted McGrew; Wid Matthews; John Quinn and John Mullen.

The Braves' ailing center fielder Billy Bruton, who was working out at the camp on his own just before Eggert left, also talked to the youngsters on bunting and base stealing.

The Braves' bonus catcher "Hawk" Taylor, who signed for a figure reported to be well over $100,000 a year ago, also was in camp but was very unimpressive, Eggert says.

Taylor, who is on the Jack-

Would Include Boxing In Anti-Trust Bill

Hebert Wants to Broaden Scope; House Unit OKs TV-Radio Exemption

Washington — Rep. Hebert (D-La.), following up his charge of racketeering in the prize fight business, said today he would urge congress to act on boxing while clearing up the legal status of other sports.

Hebert plans an attempt to broaden anti-trust legislation affecting professional team sports to include boxing. He said he would make the attempt when the bill reaches the house.

The house judiciary committee Thursday approved the measure to exempt "reasonably necessary" practices of baseball, football, basketball and hockey from federal anti-trust regulation. It would place strictly commercial aspects of pro sports under such regulation.

In a house speech later, Hebert delivered a fresh attack on the prize fight industry, and the International Boxing club in particular.

Hebert said racketeers have muscled into fighters' earnings and he asserted that the manager of Ralph Dupas, a lightweight contender from Louisville, had one hit in his first eight trips. He struck out five times during his first two days at Waycross.

Taylor, whose locker was next to Eggert's, was a "nice guy" according to the Menasha youngster.

The Georgia weather was "great," Darold says, but camp veterans said that there was more rain than usual. "As far as I was concerned it was wonderful," he says. "It was warm and the sun was out most of the time."

Asked if he was so disappointed about not being signed to a contract, after missing a semester of college, that he wouldn't go to Waycross again if he had a chance, Eggert replied immediately in the negative.

"I wouldn't have missed the experience for anything," he asserted.

ana, obtained a title match for Dupas only after yielding to a shakedown.

The committee also voted Thursday to exempt contracts regulating television and other broadcasting rights.

The anti-trust subcommittee which conducted extensive hearings on sports operations last year, had not mentioned TV or radio in a bill handed to the full judiciary committee.

The addition, if finally enacted into law, presumably would allow organized baseball to come to an agreement to restrict the telecast of major league games.

The minor leagues have complained that unlimited telecasts hurt their gate receipts by keeping fans in front of home screens.

Major league attorneys said the Justice Department has cautioned that any restrictive agreement probably would violate present anti-trust statutes.

The supreme court has declared baseball is now exempt from anti-trust regulation. But in ruling last year that pro football is covered, the court indicated any subsequent decisions, if called for, would wipe out the exempted status for any team sport.

New Personality Emerges When One Becomes a Small Car Owner

BY BETTY KILICH Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A foreign car means much more than economical transportation. It becomes a whole new way of life.

Little changes—your status on the road, the attitudes of your friends, the transformations in your wardrobe—it all adds up to a personality metamorphosis.

Your whole perspective changes. You literally become more down to earth. You get a (Miss Kilich visited the first annual foreign and sports car show now on at Valley Fair, but she didn't have to do it to write this story. She owns one — and knows whereof she speaks. bug's view of road conditions and you'll find some drivers consider you no better than an insect.

Normal-sized autos take on huge proportions and the sight through a rear view mirror of a semi trailer bearing down behind you would terrify the most experienced driver. When the truck reaches the rear bumper, its leering grille and headlights seem like a grinning robot peering down through the back window.

Empty Space? Although many parking lot troubles diminish—you can squeeze into a minute space with no trouble—they take on a new aspect. The small car is extremely difficult to locate huddled among the massive shapes of its confreres of the highways.

The parking lot situation adds new worries to drivers of larger cars. Once they've spotted what they believe is an empty space, their annoyance is understandable when they begin to swing into the space

Gaylord Nelson County Democrats To Hear Talk by Gaylord Nelson

State Sen. Gaylord Nelson, Madison, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, will address Outagamie county Democrats at the Hotel Appleton at 8 o'clock Monday night.

He has not announced the subject of his talk. The speech is open to the public.

Nelson is a 10-year veteran of the state legislature and a former co-chairman of the state Democratic party. He has served on the education and public welfare committee and committee on revisions, repeals and uniform laws.

The Democrats will discuss plans for a bean feed in Seymour, June 1, with Sen. William Proxmire as speaker.

Mrs. William Cherkasky, county chairman, said the program will open to all Eighth district Democrats.

In other business Monday, the Democrats will name a nominating committee to select convention delegates and sign up for platform sub-committees.

sued by people well-versed in the niceties of gracefulness, the proper method of entering a car is to sit on the seat, feet on the ground. Then swing the legs into the car. Never attempt to get in head and torso first.

That's well and good in a larger car. But if you try that in a sports car, your legs get entangled in the steering apparatus. The proper way to enter a smaller model is to sit on the seat, legs tucked up until the knees touch the chin. Rotate to the right at a 90 degree angle until you face forward, then thrust the legs outward.

Reverse the procedure when disembarking. Now consider the dash board. You'll find some foreign cars have no gasoline tank indicators. The fullness or emptiness of the tank is gauged by the height of the auto from the ground. The fuller the tank, the lower the car. Don't worry about it. In this motorized era, there's usually a gas station around the corner.

Other models don't have the speedometer in the conventional position before the driver. Instead a tachometer occupies the place to indicate the revolutions per minute. After sufficient experience, the driver will find it takes only a moment of calculations to transpose revolutions to miles, however.

There are a lot of other things you'll have to learn, but that'll all come in good time. And soon you'll come to the discovery you don't own the car — it owns you.

As for your wardrobe, it's inconceivable, of course, that you wear the same type clothing you'd wear in a big car. Sunglasses are a must at all times and men are advised to build up a supply of splashy sports jackets — a bright plaid is excellent — and golf caps.

Women are given more wardrobe leeway, since any sports outfit is acceptable. A lush sun-tan is an appearance asset in any small auto.

The advent of the sports car also opens up a whole new world of poise and posture. Getting into a car gracefully always has been a particularly difficult maneuver and the difficulties now are compounded.

Speakers Named For Labor Dinner With Management

Expect 350 at Union Council's Eighth Annual Program April 24

Menasha — Social, economic and scientific developments, coupled with their relationship to industrial progress, will be highlighted Thursday night, April 24, during the eighth annual labor-management dinner sponsored by the Neenah-Menasha Labor Council, AFL-CIO.

Scheduled to begin at 6:30 in the evening at the Neenah-Menasha Elks club, the traditional get-together will find members of Twin City labor unions repeating their role as hosts to industry's management representatives.

A review of American living standards and the individual's responsibility toward a better way of life will be discussed by F. J. Michel, Fond du Lac, a public relations department staff representative assigned to the speakers bureau of the AFL-CIO by the organization's international headquarters.

A resident of Wisconsin since 1925, Michel became active in the organized labor movement in 1933 at an automobile plant in Racine. Since then he has served in varied capacities, including a 10-year term as regional director for the Wisconsin region of the CIO. He became a staff representative for the AFL-CIO Wisconsin region when the two international labor organizations merged in 1955.

Current and long-term economic trends, with emphasis on their impact in the paper industry and allied businesses, will be examined by Robert E. O'Connor, New York city, executive secretary of the American Paper and Pulp association.

Before assuming his post as executive secretary, O'Connor served for 10 years in a variety of APFA staff assignments. These included industrial relations, finance, water resources and public affairs activities. He also is active in the Forest Industries Council, an organization of lumber, pulpwood, pulp and paper industries.

Views on these broad subjects that are of mutual interest to labor and management will be presented by Michel and O'Connor after the dinner which is expected to attract an audience of 350, according to Claude Cash, chairman of the dinner and president of the Labor Council.

Complete program arrangements will be announced early next week, Cash said.

PSC Approves All Automatic Rail Signals

Will Install New Controls at Twin City Crossings

Neenah — Automatic railroad crossing protection for N. Commercial street, E. Forest avenue and E. Wisconsin avenue in Neenah and Garfield avenue in Menasha was approved Thursday by the Wisconsin public service commission.

The PSC also ordered the Chicago and North Western railway to install two warning signals and bells at the E. Wisconsin avenue crossing to face toward traffic approaching on Walnut street. The city of Neenah was not opposed to any changes, but had asked for the Walnut street protection.

All changes are to be paid entirely by the railroad. The work will cost $51,550, R. L. Bush, assistant signal engineer, said at the Dec. 11 PSC hearing here.

At the present time the Garfield avenue, Forest avenue and Wisconsin avenue signals are semi-automatic, being controlled by a watchman nine or 10 hours a day. The N. Commercial street crossing, the only one that has gates, has 24 hour protection.

Fully Automatic The seven crossing signals south of Wisconsin avenue — Doty, Columbia, Franklin and Washington avenues, Olive, Spruce and Maple street — are now semi-automatic, being controlled in part by the Wisconsin avenue crossing guard. The railroad proposes to replace the automatic relays on these crossings with newer ones when the fully automatic signal is installed at Wisconsin avenue.

A new set of gates and new signal relay would be installed at N. Commercial street. The gates would be of the short-arm type, on the traffic approach side only, and would prevent any vehicle from being trapped between the gates.

The gates would be raised automatically if a train was stopped at the adjacent Neenah-Menasha depot.

All the signals would be of the automatic cancelling type, so that they would shut off if the train that actuated them did not reach the crossing.

6th District GOP State, Senate Candidates Parade Activities in Endorsement Bid

By Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Fond du Lac — State government officers paraded their accomplishments and aspirations for the United States senate seat their beliefs and past achievements for the party as they appeared before the Sixth district Republican caucus here Thursday night in a bid for the state convention's endorsement. Only missing face from the candidates was Lt. Gov. Warren P. Knowles who was observing his fifteenth wedding anniversary with his wife, Mrs. P. Knowles.

James Onderdonk, Madison lawyer and engineer, all announced candidates for the endorsement for the senate seat. The state officers who spoke were Gov. Vernon Thomson, Secretary of State Robert Zimmerman, Treasurer Dena A. Smith and Atty. Gen. Stewart G. Honeck. The state Republican chairman, Claude Jasper, also spoke to the group as did candidates for the new executive secretary, George Greeley, national conserving his fifteenth wedding anniversary with his wife, Mrs. Marion Fox; state vice chairman, Mrs. Leo Patrick O'Malley; and state Brien of Green Bay commanding the work of Knowles, holding him up as the man quite responsible for the successful accomplishments of Governors Kohler and Thomson, and then "as the Democrats have," as ended by saying he himself was it is his duty as governor to going to be a candidate for the carry out the interests of all lieutenant governor post now the people. Airport Terminal Will Cost $251,000

Winnebago County Share of Project Set at $100,800; Open House Dates Picked

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau
Oshkosh — Total cost thus far of the airport terminal project is estimated at $251,702, with the county's share being $100,815, the Winnebago county board was advised Thursday by its aviation committee.
Operation of the terminal is slated to begin May 1 with an open house for county and city governmental officials on Friday night, May 2, and for the general public on Saturday and Sunday, May 3 and 4.
Plans for the open house are being arranged by the Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce industrial development committee in conjunction with the aviation committee of the county board. It is hoped that several large airplanes, larger than those normally seen at the airport, will be on hand for public viewing during the open house.

The federal government pays half of the cost and the state about $39,264 with the county making up the rest. The federal government's share was placed at $124,024 since it does not participate in the costs of some of the items added to the terminal building.

Provide Furnishings
Several industrial and commercial groups are providing some of the furnishings which will be used in the terminal building.
The board appropriated $50 for the state Keep Wisconsin Clean and Beautiful committee toward the cost of teacher's manuals for schools which will aim at eliminating litter from public highways. The state committee is seeking $3,500 and the highway committee recommended the county pay $50 as its share, calling it a much needed program.
It was decided that all insurance except workmen's compensation should be purchased from commercial companies. The county has been self-insuring its workmen's compensation.

Aug. 3 was set as the date for the annual picnic for county employees and board members and May 27 as the date for the next meeting of the board.

15-Team Field Seems Likely in Twin City Industrial Circuit

League Sets May 6 as Opening Date; Plans Tourney, Star Game; Divisions Formulated

Neenah — A 15-team circuit seems likely in the Twin City Industrial softball league. The loop had its organization meeting Thursday night at the Bergstrom Paper company meeting room.
Eleven of last year's 15 teams had representatives at the meeting, two more indicated that they again would be in the league and Soo Line is a likely new entry to replace Hardwood Products, which will not field a team this year.
Returns include Bergstrom's, Marathon Ramblers, Strange Paper, Lakeview, Menasha Wooden Ware, Banta's, Neenah Foundry, Main Office Research, Northwestern Electrotape, Wisconsin Tissue Mills, Marathon Packers and Gilbert Paper. Badger-Globe and Neenah Paper are the two which are expected to play.

Entry Deadline
Saturday, April 26 has been set as the deadline for teams to enter the league. If there is a 15-team league, the National division will include Badger-Globe, Marathon Ramblers, Strange's, Lakeview, Wooden Ware, Bergstrom's, Banta's and Foundry.
The American division would have Main Office, Northwestern Electrotape, Tissue Mills, Packers, Neenah Paper, Gilbert Paper and Soo Line. If the Soo line decides not to enter, Foundry will be moved into the American section for two seven-team divisions.
Fun Game
Soo Line would be permitted to use players from the Gross Transfer company and Northwestern Electrotape will be able to draw from Earl's Litho. League play will begin Tuesday, May 6. The all-star game was tentatively set for June 28 and will be preceded by a three-inning fun game between a team composed of umpires and league officers against a club made up of the managers.
The league again will sponsor its tournament on the week after July 4. Makeups will be played on Friday nights instead of playing three games.

Zephyrs Seek Second Win Against Oshkosh Balthazor or Steger Expected to Pitch for Menashans; Indians Also Have Perfect Slate

Menasha — St. Mary and Oshkosh, both of which posted wins in their initial baseball outings, collide at Oshkosh Saturday afternoon.

The Zephyrs edged Brillion 4-3 in their opener last Tuesday afternoon while the same day Oshkosh recorded a 6-0 triumph over Neenah as Pete Kaul and Gary Johnson combined to hurl a no-hitter.

Starter Tom Balthazor or Bill Steger, who pitched brilliant relief ball, is expected to be on the mound for Coaches Vince Ste. Marie's nine while Johnson and Kaul both are expected to pitch again for the Indians.

Juniors Lead In Class Meet

3rd Year Students Hold Narrow Edge Over Senior Team

Neenah — With half of the schedule of events completed, the Juniors own a narrow half point lead in the annual Neenah High school interschool track meet.

The third year students collected 42 points as the meet got underway Thursday afternoon. The seniors have 41, the sophomores 19 and the freshmen 51. The meet was scheduled to be completed today.

Junior Jerry Hensen was Friday's only double winner. He won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, 4 inches and had 25.3 to top the 220 yard dash.

What YOU Should Know About Car Dealers

- Is there a new car in your future? Then, no matter what make or model you choose, it's in your best interest to choose the dealer with equal (or greater) care! Not only have you every right to know his background and business policies, but every reputable dealer is anxious to have you know his answers to questions like these:
1. Has he an established business reputation in the community? Where the fly-by-night operation relies on the fast buck the established business relies on satisfied customers. Reputation built over the years is still your best guide to fair and honest dealing.
 2. Is he a respected member of the community subscribing to the highest standard of business ethics? The only guiding principle of some businesses is "Let the buyer beware!" Be certain your dealer has made a formal pledge of straightforward business dealings.
 3. Does he refrain from high-pressure tactics? The reputable dealer considers you a customer, but the shady operator you're just a "mark." In buying an automobile, as in purchases less substantial, you deserve courtesy and helpfulness from the salesman — not be dazzling oratory!
 4. Does he refrain from "gimmicks," "fabulous discounts," "pie-in-the-sky promises"? Of course reputable dealers often offer their customer special values, when volume purchases or special conditions permit them to do so. But chronic "discountitis" means only one of three things: (1) the dealer has no confidence in the real value of his merchandise, (2) the dealer is padding the regular price to give you a phony discount, or (3) the dealer has a private income and doesn't worry about going broke.
 5. Does the dealer maintain an adequate inventory for easy selection and speedy delivery? With the wide variety of models and color combination available today, no dealer could stock "one of everything." On the other hand, there is no reason why you should have to order your car from a floor sample and a catalog. Your dealer should offer you the chance to see and drive the model you want.
 6. Does the dealer offer complete service facilities? You'd be surprised how some dealers' interest in you ceases abruptly after the sale! The reputable dealer, however, feels his obligation to help you maintain your investment in motoring pleasure — and maintains experienced service personnel and complete facilities for that purpose.
 7. Does the dealer offer a finance plan tailored to your needs? Most dealers offer generalized term payment plans designed for the "average" buyer — which includes anyone and everyone. Few dealers offer you the convenience of handling their own financing, with terms tailored specifically to your requirements.
 8. Does the dealer offer adequate showroom facilities? You deserve the privilege of shopping in a spacious, clean, well lighted showroom, where you can shop in comfort with the widest possible variety of makes, models and color combinations to choose from. This advertisement is presented in the interests of car buyers everywhere, with the hope that the dealer you choose can answer "Yes" to every question — just as Lavelle Motors can!

Four Acts to Appear at Lions Sportsman Show Spear Third Place in 9th Couples Meet

Program Slated Saturday Evening At Neenah Gym

Neenah — A list of 75 awards topped by three major prizes and four big-time entertainment acts will make up the Neenah Lions club annual Sportsman show at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the Neenah High school gymnasium.

Tickets which have been on sale for the last month at Twin City sporting goods stores and from Lions members, will be available at the door the night of the show, according to Ed Kadlec, general chairman.

Major Awards

The major awards consist of a boat, outboard motor and a gun while lesser prizes include various types of hunting and fishing equipment appealing to the sportsman. Prizes are on display in a downtown Neenah store window.

Tom Collins, Neenah sports-caster, will be master of ceremonies, introducing the vaudeville acts.

Happy Hopp Green, a clown, will be on hand before the show begins to entertain the audience.

Talking Crow

The acts will include Louis Tops, an animal novelty act featuring Rosko, the talking and performing crow; Bobbie, a trained rooster, and Cinko, a little Chihuahua dog. They recently appeared on Ed Sullivan's television show.

Other performers are Erv's Acrobats, a family acrobatic team; the Cycling Martins, trick and fancy cyclists, and the Langs in dazzling acrobatics. Joe Wesley will be piano accompanist.

The Lions expect to use proceeds from the show in their humanitarian work and to finance community projects being planned.

Rocket Nine Launches Home Slate Against Algoma High

Wolves Here for Annual Twin Bill; Neenah Seeks First Win

Neenah — Coach Joe Braun's Neenah nine will open its home schedule with the annual doubleheader against Algoma Saturday afternoon. The first game will get underway at 1 o'clock at the Rockets' baseball field. Both games will be seven innings.

The Rockets and Wolves have been getting together annually in twin bills since 1954. They split the first year, Algoma won two the following season, they again split in 1956 and last season the Rockets came through with a double win.

Winning String

After losing to Neenah, Algoma went along undefeated until it bowed to Pulaski in the sectional tournament playoff for a berth in the state tournament. It had an overall 9-3 mark.

Several veterans, including Dennis Hafeman who was a starting hurler as a sophomore, and junior, will be back in action.

7-2 Record

Hafeman had a 7-2 mound record last year, Mehlin 2-0 and Bohman 0-1.

Neenah launched its season inauspiciously Tuesday afternoon at Oshkosh, bowing 6-0 as Indian hurlers Pete Kaul and Gary Johnson combined to pitch a no-hitter.

The Rockets only drove one ball out of the infield but that would have gone for a hit except for a dandy catch by Kaul.

Since it will be a doubleheader, all of the Rocket mound staffers are expected to see action. At Oshkosh, southpaw Gene Gries turned in the top effort. Both of the runs scored off him in three innings were unearned.

Likely Starters

Likely starters are Gries, Marv Carlson or Don Bemowski on the mound; Jerry Moller, catcher; Gries or Tom Kelly, first base; Dan Began or Dave Heller, second base; Began or Carlston, shortstop; Dave Thomsen, third base; and Tom Syring, Kent Simeron and Bemowski in the outfield.

Both games were decided by one run last season. The Rockets scored two runs in the last of the seventh to cop the first one 3-2 and tallied once in the final frame to break a 5-all tie for a 6-5 verdict in the second.

Reservations Available for Softball Fields

Menasha — Reservations for softball and baseball diamonds in Menasha's city parks are now being accepted at the park and recreation office in the Memorial building, the Recreation department announced today.

Teams wishing practice time or planning practice games have been asked to call for a permit. Team managers can receive only one permit at a time and must use that permit before another can be issued.

Softball diamonds are located in Jefferson park, Smith park, Sixth street park and Seventh street park. All of the diamonds in the city's parks are conditioned and maintained by Park department personnel.

One of last year's diamonds located in Garfield park has been removed to allow the expansion of the treatment plant. Most of the local leagues will begin play in early May. Team managers were reminded to final frame to break a 5-all tie for a 6-5 verdict in the second.

Board Hikes County Cost of Living Bonus

Elected Officers Salaries to Stay At Present Level

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau

Oshkosh — Winnebago county employees were granted a $3 increase per month in their cost of living bonus, making the second $3 increase in the last year.

The increase is based on the cost of living price index of the United States department of labor. Last April the bonus was raised to $47 and in the fall to $50. It will be $53 a month effective May 1.

The personnel committee recommended that no increase in salary be granted the county elective officials whose terms expire this year since they received a salary adjustment as of Jan. 1.

It also recommended that no change be made in the hospitalization insurance portion paid by the county since the county employees had received salary adjustments at the beginning of the year. These suggestions were accepted by the board.

Dental Hygienist Salary

The board placed the salary of the dental hygienist at $325 a month with annual increases of $15 a month up to a maximum of $385 in four years. The cost of living bonus will be added to this salary and the person will be hired for a 10-month basis with no vacation time.

Hiring of a dental hygienist was authorized by the board last fall but the county health committee has been unable to obtain one as yet.

Board members also provided that if any new supervising teachers are to be hired, the county will add $50 a month to the state's beginning salary up to a maximum of $4,500 for that office. The present state beginning salary is $3,800 a year for a 10-month basis and it is difficult to secure supervising teachers at that salary since many rural teachers already are making more than that and for only nine months in the year of work.

It was understood one of the 4-H Clubs From the Northeastern section of Winnebago county presented their 1-act plays in the annual 4-H rural theater revue at Spring Road school Thursday night. present supervising teachers was planning to retire and the other has received an offer which pays more than the county can offer.

State, Senate Candidates Talk at Caucus communities 70 cents out of every tax dollar it collects through various aids. This too was done without increasing the basic tax source of the state," the governor declared.

He called for a continuance of the "careful, conservative management of the tax resources of the state and told also of what the state was doing in promoting its dairy products, its recreational facilities and in securing new industries, "a program where we have had some substantial successes and, though slow in getting started, is moving along rapidly."

Senate Candidates Dittmore, who spoke first for the senate candidates, stated the people in the state were interested in the military defense of the country, socialism and communism in this country and on an international scale and the economic conditions of the country.

Onderdonk said he stood for constitutional government and that "if we did for the communist countries what our government has been doing," referring to foreign aid, "we would be charged with treason."

Steinle called for unity and harmony in the party and a platform that will detail precisely what the party stands for. He charged Proxmire with spending more time issuing press releases than in doing his job as senator.

Mrs. Smith, who was named treasurer after the death of her husband, said she would carry out the office duties just as he had done and mentioned the state has $493 million in invested funds plus several millions in the banks, "and," she emphasized, "we are not bankrupt."

Honeck as attorney general stated the duties of his office are discharged in a non-partisan way as part of the machinery of justice. He told also of the work of some of the committees of which he had been named chairman, such as the special committee for development of natural resources and the Great Lakes commission. Zimmerman, secretary of state, pointed out 67 per cent of the state's nine congressmen were Republicans, 68 per cent of its 100 assemblymen, 70 per cent of its 33 state senators, 92 per cent of the 538 elective county officers and 100 per cent of its state constitutional officers were Republicans. "It's going to take a lot of work to raise that percentage but it can be done" and he pledged that he would be in there working hard for everyone on the Republican ticket.

Neenah — Three-year-old Kathy Korth locked her mother out of the house about 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, and Mom had to call the firemen to get back in.

Mrs. Otto J. Korth, 210 W. Doty avenue, called the ladder crew, which set a man through a second floor window to unlock the door.

Kathy and her 18-month-old brother, Jimmy, just played while the firemen let Mom back in the house.

Elect Vice Chairman, Secretary of Neenah Council Committee

Neenah — Ald. Kenneth Parman, Seventh ward, was elected vice chairman of the city council's health and welfare committee Wednesday evening. The chairman of the committee is Ald. Paul Hansen, Ninth ward, who was appointed by Mayor Chester Bell Tuesday.

The committee also elected Ald. Harold Young, Tenth ward, as its secretary and renamed Dr. F. O. Bunkhorst as city health officer.

3 Books About World War II On Menasha Library Shelves

Menasha — Three books about World War II were among the list of 26 works recently purchased by the Elks Club Library, Librarian Marvin Melick reported today. Gene Gurney's "Five Down and Glory", a history of the faces of the American air force from World War I through the Korean conflict; Robert Leckie's "Helmet for My Pillow", a deeply human account of the humor and horror of war in the South Pacific by a marine private who was a scout in the famous First Division; and Kendal Burt's "The One That Got Away", a breath-taking story of escape and pursuit of a daring Luftwaffe pilot who was shot down over England, are the new war stories. Sisters in Korea

Earlier war history is told in W. A. Swanberg's "First Blood", the story of Fort Sumter, and in Arthur Schlesinger's "Prelude to Independence", the Federal Reserve Action Held Major Factor in Advance

New York —(AP)—Oils took over stock market leadership from rails as prices rose in active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks advanced fractions to a point or so.

The double-barreled anti-inflation move by the federal reserve board in cutting both the discount rate and the reserve requirements of member banks was one factor in the rise, brokers said.

They cited reports of less tense conditions in the Middle East to account for the rise in international oils. Domestic oils were up in sympathy.

The ticker tape was as much as two minutes behind floor transactions for a 6-minute period in the opening flurry.

Steels, aircrafts, rubbers, chemicals and other industrials moved ahead.

The whole market seemed to be enjoying a psychological lift. Chesapeake & Ohio, Southern Railway and Baltimore & Ohio were fractionally higher.

Gulf Oil and Standard Oil (New Jersey) rose more than a point each. Texas Co., and Sinclair picked up a point or so.

Fairchild Engine rose a fraction. Similar gains were made by United Aircraft, Boeing and Douglas Aircraft.

Du Pont added more than a point. American Telephone was up a point.

Rises of around a point were made by Youngstown Sheet and Chrysler.

Long-range U.S. government bonds rose sharply.

AT and T to Spend Over $2 Billion

New York —(AP)—The American Telephone and Telegraph company will spend $2,000,000,000 on construction this year, its president told more than 2,600 stockholders yesterday.

Frederick R. Kappel, president at the 73rd annual meeting, said the big construction outlay for 1958 equals the amount spent in 1956, although it is 300 millions under last year's record outlay.

Kappel told a news conference preceding the meeting that the business downturn has just about bottomed off. The speed of economy recovery, he said, depends on the degree of statesmanship exhibited by government, politicians and economists.

During the meeting he said A. T. and T., despite the general business slowdown, added more than 1,400,000 telephones and the number of conversations handled has gone up more than five million a day.

But excessive spending coupled with tax cuts right now, he said, would mean another rash of inflation.

Efforts to improve equipment and methods have helped to keep costs down, Kappel said, adding: "Certainly we don't enjoy increasing telephone rates, but if, in the long run, inflation continues to increase our costs, I see no alternative."

The company has been granted rate increases amounting to $35 million on an annual basis, thus far this year, and has applications pending for 120 million.

Corrections or Cancellations

Want ad corrections or cancellations accepted to 9:50 a.m. for same day. Saturdays till 8:30 a.m.

IMPORTANT: After an ad is ordered, it cannot be cancelled or changed before one publication. When cancelling an ad, demand a "kill number." No claims recognized on ads cancelled without it. The number of days ad is published, determines the rate of such ads.

Adjustments

The Appleton Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for verbal statements in conflict with its established rules, policies or rates. All claims for adjustments or refunds must be made within 7 days after expiration of ad.

Errors, not the fault of the advertiser, which clearly lessen the value of the advertisement, should be corrected the first day, when one extra corrected insertion will be made without charge. The Post-Crescent assumes no responsibility for error after the first insertion.

J. I. Case Shows Profit After Deficit Year

Racine —(AP)—J. I. Case company stockholders were told Thursday the farm implement firm made a net profit of $1,300,000 in the fiscal year ending Oct. 31, 1957.

The company said this compared with a loss of $987,000 in the previous fiscal year. In a statement issued at the annual meeting, the firm said sales were 42 per cent higher than in the previous fiscal year.

Officials said a share of this increase resulted from the sale of industrial products acquired in the merger with the American Tractor Corporation.

River Crossing Okay, Water Utility Told

Federal Government Received No Protests, Engineers' Corps Says

The federal government has no objection to the water department installing a feeder main under and across the Fox river to serve the southeast side, the water commission has been informed.

A letter from the corps of engineers states that no objections to the underground feeder were filed with the corps by April 12, the deadline date.

The commission will advise approval of the state board of health is given to the project. At that time, easements also will be sought from the federal government, Consolidated Water Power and Paper company and the city park board.

The main, with a cost variously estimated at upwards of $60,000, will cross the river from a point at N. Leminwah street and N. Green Bay street. It will extend to the southeast side through Telulah park to reach the E. Newberry street and S. Walter avenue intersection.

Award Contracts

Construction of the main will be the only large project of the season for the commission.

Joseph Van Daalwyk, route 3, Kaukauna, has been awarded the contract for mantrenching this season. His bid of $1.30 a foot on gravel streets, $1.40 a foot on dirt streets, and $4.50 a foot on paved streets was adjudged low from among prices quoted by four contractors.

A half-ton pickup truck to replace a 1932 model was ordered from Gibson company, Inc., the low bidder. Gibson will furnish the truck for $987, taking the older model in trade.

Fraser Lumber company, low bidder, was awarded a contract to replace the 24-year-old garage doors at the utility's office on N. Walnut street. The four new doors will cost $869.75.

Superintendents Meet

Foreman Key Force, Safety Leader Says

"Foremen are in a key position to remove any wedge between employee safety and production," C. H. Kemp, Thi l m a n y Pulp and Paper company safety director, told the Northwest division of the American Pulp and Paper Mill Superintendents association Thursday night at Marinette.

Kemp

However, Kemp said, if a foreman is to carry the load in prevention of accidents, he must be given the tools and support to do the job.

First, Kemp declared, management must establish and maintain a program so foremen know what they are to prevent. Safety standards must be developed and general policy and regulations must be defined by management, he added.

Education Program

An educational program is a means to prepare foremen, and training on the job is one of the best means, Kemp explained. To train foremen, personal contact by the safety department is essential, the safety director emphasized.

A foreman equipped with the necessary tools can maintain an effective program in his department, thus reducing accident frequency rates, he added.

Using the foreman as a center, it is possible to build up a loyal, conscientious and safety-minded circle of employees—the elements of support for this are knowledge, instruction, confidence, enthusiasm, imagination, persistence, administration and human relations, Kemp declared.

Foremen Knowledge

Foremen's knowledge must include what the foreman is going to do and why he is going to do it, Kemp said. Facts concerning with accident frequency, causes, prevention and results must be communicated to the foremen from the safety department where accident facts are collected, he added.

Facts should be presented in a manner so employees realize that safety practice and conditions are essential to his own well being and that the foreman is interested in him as an individual, Kemp declared.

Persistence must be a part of any safety program, Kemp emphasized, because a well-balanced program will not run hot and cold.

Safety practice and good production methods go hand in hand, he added.

To have a sound basic philosophy, all industry should have policy statements by management for the need and importance of accident prevention, Kemp said.

Fundamentals

Fundamental principles of accident prevention include management interest and participation, determination of accident causes—unsafe personal acts and unsafe physical conditions—and the necessary corrective action, Kemp declared.

These principles are the backbone of any accident prevention philosophy, he emphasized.

The four Es of safety are education, engineering, enthusiasm and enforcement, Kemp explained.

"No one man can do the safety job—it's essentially a cooperative effort from top management down through the entire line and staff organization. Over the years, a good safety record is a measure of good leadership, harmony between management and workers, a yardstick of good or poor formanship and a measure of executive policy," Kemp concluded.

Expect 255 to Attend Annual C of C Meeting

About 255 Appleton Chamber of Commerce members are expected to be on hand Wednesday night for the annual meeting, Kenneth Corbett, secretary, said today.

The meeting will be held at 6:15 at the Conway hotel.

H. Roe Bartle, mayor of Kansas City, Mo., and popular after dinner speaker, is scheduled to talk.

Other highlights will include the annual reports of Chamber President Victor I. Minahan, Jr., and Treasurer Otto H. Hansen.

Election Results

At the same time, Minahan is expected to declare the polls closed on the election of five members to the board of directors and to order a unanimous ballot cast.

The five nominees, all without opposition, are Edward M. Adam, John Conway, William H. Pifer, M. J. Schulenberg and Bruce B. Purdy.

The board will meet the next day to elect new officers, Corbett said.

Exactly 235 reservations for the annual meeting have been received, Corbett said, and there are 20 more available.

Man Who Gave Up His License Was Not Denied One

The Post-Crescent each month carries a list of driver's license revocations. Its source is the state motor vehicle department's monthly bulletin.

Last January Henry P. Van Dyke, 84, of Freedom, turned in his driver's license to County Traffic Police Captain Ronald Decker after 40 years of driving without an accident or traffic law violation.

In the last list of license revocations which appeared in Tuesday's Post-Crescent, Van Dyke was listed as having been denied a license.

He was not denied a license—he voluntarily surrendered it.

Van Dyke now is in California. His family, with good cause, wants it known there was no need to deny him a license. He had one, and gave it up because he thought he was too old to drive—after a perfect record for 40 years.

Drunken Driving Charge Dismissed

A charge of drunken driving against Otto A. Schmidt, 51, Nye street, Hortonville, was dismissed Thursday after a trial before Acting Municipal Judge Stanley A. Staidl.

Schmidt was arrested by county police Feb. 15 in Hortonville.
